FIRE HELPS URBAN RENEWAL — Two Romulus volunteer fire fighters watch a fire level a storage shed at 6197 Chamberlain last week. The property belongs to the City of Romulus as part of its urban renewal project. Junk equipment was the only loss in the small blaze. Romulus Fire Chief Joe Crova reported arson was the cause of the blaze.

Campaign contribution returned, says Mahalak

By HENRY CANTIN

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus), one of eight Democratic House members who received a $50 campaign contribution from William A. Ryan, speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, reported Monday he returned the contribution when he learned of its source.

Speaker Ryan recently reported he had accepted $400 in cash from a lobbyist for dog racing interests and had distributed the money to the eight Democratic House members, including Mahalak.

He reported he was uncertain whether or not he had told the eight legislators the contributions were actually from John A. Maclellan of Pontiac and Lansing, a longtime promoter of legislation to legalize dog racing in Michigan.

In commenting on the disclosure, Mahalak admitted receiving a $50 campaign contribution from Ryan, but said he immediately returned the money.

Mahalak pointed out he has been extremely careful about accepting campaign contributions since he has been elected to office.

The present lobbying control law is practically unenforceable and requires the officeholder to use caution before accepting a contribution, Mahalak said.

The representative said he will sponsor legislation that will provide stricter registration guidelines and reports on lobbyists' spending activities promoting a bill or attempting to destroy one.

He said he has not supported dog racing since he has been in Lansing and does not intend to.

"I have disapproved of the methods used by the promoter of dog racing. There are a

City's new gun code generates confusion

Romulus' new gun control ordinance has apparently caused confusion in the minds of some Romulus residents and outdoor enthusiasts.

The council-approved shooting ban was subjected to a referendum vote last August and received a 1,274 - 936-vote approval by the city's electorate.

Councilmen Ellis T. Pennington and Brooker R. Edwards reported they have received numerous phone calls from residents confused about just what type of firearms are involved in the listed restrictions of the gun control regulations.

The gun control law prohibits the discharge of certain firearms within the city, except for certain permitted areas, provides penalties for violations and sets up licensing procedures for rifle ranges within the city.

The adoption of the gun control ordinance followed weeks of controversy. It was initiated by a citizens group which complained about the discharge of firearms in the vacant areas located near their residences.

Section one of the ordinance states, "No person shall, except in self defense, discharge or cause to be discharged within the City of Romulus, any firearm capable of inflicting injury to persons, property or animals."

For the purposes of the new ordinance, firearm was defined as follows: "Shall include any rifle, pistol or other explosive device which expels a single projectile at a velocity sufficient to kill, injure or damage persons, property or animals."

The councilmen reported the ordinance does not include shot guns.

Also excluded, besides persons firing in self defense, are those persons shooting with approved and licensed gun and skeet or trap clubs or at a licensed rifle range.

The ordinance requires prior written approval from the city's law enforcement agency and the city clerk for people who wish to participate in public shooting exhibitions in the community or for those who discharge firearms on their own property.

The ordinance requires clubs and ranges to apply for a license every year.

Resident wants hospital in city

The first steps in procuring financial assistance for the construction of a small hospital in the City of Romulus have been taken by William M. Quiney, president of the Romulus Homeowners Association.

Quiney reported Monday he has contacted the Wayne County Office of Program Development and Coordination relative to procuring information regarding the potential availability of federal funds for a hospital.

The City of Romulus presently has no city-located hospital, but is a member of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority, owner and operator of four PCHA hospital units located in Wayne, Trenton, Lincoln Park and Ypsilanti.

Dr. Clarence J. Carpenter, M.D., operates an industrial medical clinic in front of his home, located at 37545 Van Born Rd., Romulus.

Quiney announced he intends to file an application for a federal or state grant under the provisions of the Hill-Burton Act for the construction of health facilities, and the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

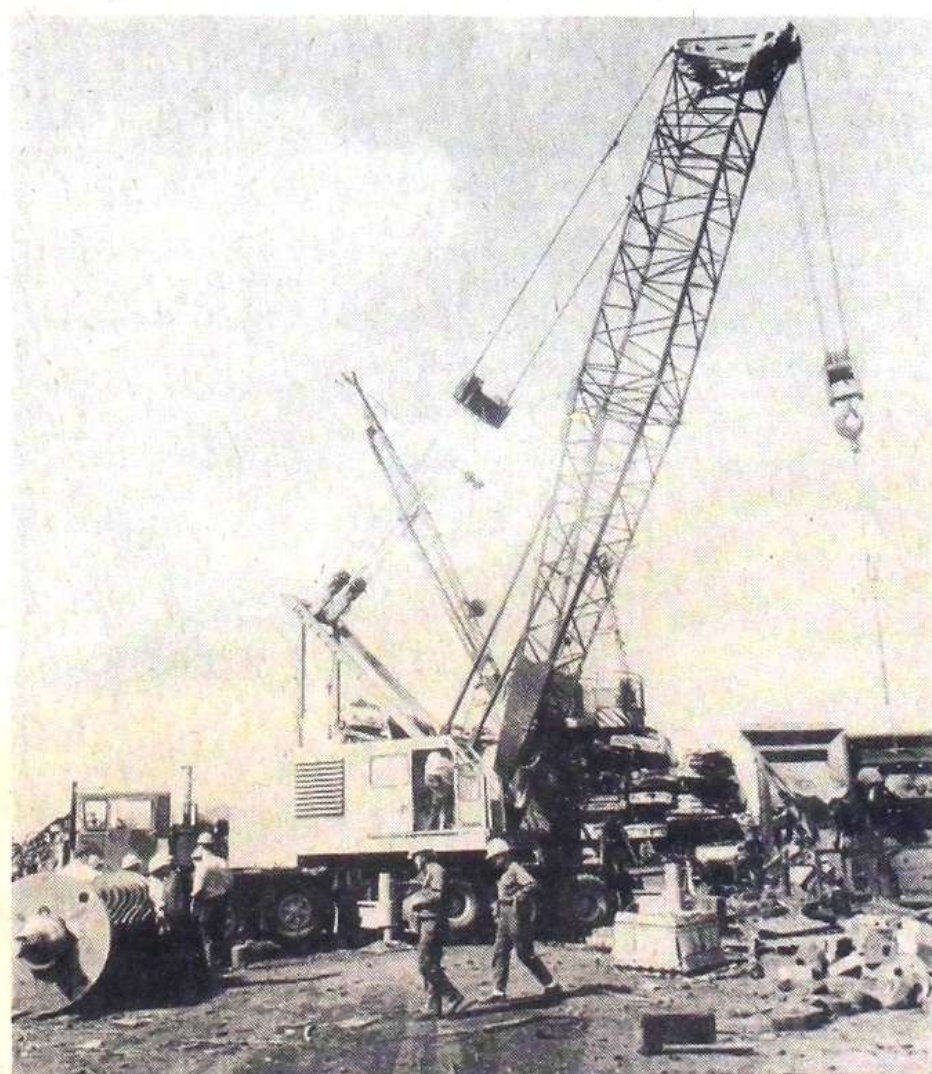

He asked that Romulus residents who are interested in seeing that Romulus has its own medical facility contact him at 722-4466.

Corn roast set Friday

The annual corn roast of the Romulus Jaycees will be held Friday at 7 p.m. at the residence of Don Treder, 36899 Mario Ann Ct., Romulus.

Any prospective members of the Jaycees are invited to attend this yearly social event.

Interested young men between the ages of 18-35 are asked to contact Jaycee President Lee Silvey at 941-0289.

STATE'S BIGGEST TRUCK-CRANE — Workmen surround what is reported to be the state's biggest truck-crane, being used to assist in the repairing of Huron Valley Steel Co.'s auto crushing machine at the company plant, located at 12451 Haggerty Rd., Belleville. The large crane is operated by Robert Cox, 45, of 6250 Hannan Rd., Wayne. The workmen are replacing the rotor cutter of the auto smashing machine.

Council okays multiple zoning

By HENRY CANTIN

The rezoning of a 34-acre parcel in Romulus for the construction of a multi-million dollar multiple dwelling development has been approved by the Romulus City Council.

The request to rezone the land, located on the south side of Ecorse Road between Henry Ruff and South Wayne roads, was made by the G.E. Wash Construction Co. of Detroit and James D. Klingbeil & Co. of Columbus, Ohio, owners and developers of the proposed Cambridge Station West.

City Council's action approving the rezoning from R-1A (single-family residential) to R-M (multiple dwelling) came after several council hearings including one attended by more than 100 local residents.

The plans for the townhouse development as proposed by the developers call for the expenditure of between $6 to $8 million. The units will rent for $180 and up.

The proposed Cambridge Station West will be, according to the plans, a complete and self sustaining multiple dwelling complex of 405 moderate-income garden-type apartments.

The motion to amend the city's master zoning ordinance to permit the rezoning was made by Councilman Brooker R. Edwards, supported by Councilman Ellis T. Pennington.

Opposing the motion was Councilman James C. Stewart.

Council members in favor of the motion were Council President Jimmie Raspberry, Councilmen Edmund W. Bizak, William M. Oakley, Fred Junior Block, Edwards and Pennington.

In adopting the new amendment to the zoning ordinance, the council included an additional restriction to those previously agreed upon by the city and the developers.

The new restriction states:

"This amendatory ordinance is enacted upon the condition that the parties requesting the rezoning shall have, within 24 months from the date of enactment (Sept. 5) of this ordinance, submitted to the city a site plan for the development of the land which has been approved by the city and shall have, within said 24-month period, obtained one or more building permits for construction in accordance with said approved site plan, and, if said condition shall not occur, the zoning of the land parcel shall revert to its prior zoning of R-1A."

The developers agreed to this new restriction.

Approximately 100 residents living in the vicinity of the proposed townhouse development attended the public hearings before the city council on the rezoning.

The residents, led by Mrs. Theresa Washington of 6855 Dexter St., Romulus, owner of about 25 acres behind the proposed multiple dwelling project, spoke in favor of the development and urged the council to approve the rezoning.

In all previous hearings before the council and the Romulus Planning Commission, the developers agreed to abide by their initial presentations of the project and have agreed to include various recommendations and restrictions requested by the council members.

Former Romulus pastor, 68, dies

The Rev. John A. Krause, the first pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus, died Friday at the age of 68.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning at Lents Funeral Home in Wayne, followed by a Requiem High Mass at 11 a.m. at St. Aloysius Church. Burial was in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, located in Wyandotte.

Father Krause, who was born on June 4, 1904, and living in Taylor at the time of his death, died in Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn following a heart attack.

He was pastor at St. Aloysius from June, 1951-60. He also was the pastor of Assumption Parish in Detroit, and retired in 1968 because of ill health.

Father Krause attended Mt. Carmel High School in Wyandotte and SS Cyril & Methodius Seminary at Orchard Lake. He was ordained to the priesthood on May 22, 1932.

He has served in the following parishes of Detroit—Transfiguration, Our Lady Help of Christians, St. Joseph and St. Hyacinth. He also was an assistant to the late Bishop Woznicki.

Father Krause is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mary Guevara, Mrs. Francis Dreffs and Sister M. Phyllis Krause, a member of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Sisters (IHM) and two brothers, William and Carl Krause.

Indian group sings at church

Chief Bruce Thum of Indianapolis, Ind., and his Musical Sunshine Party will sing at Grace Baptist Church of Belleville at the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services on Sept. 17, the Rev. William Gram announced.

The church is located on Roys Street, just west of Main Street in Belleville.

Little 7-year-old Geranamo will wear his Indian costume and sing with other members. A new addition to the group is Dennis Benson, who many called 75 pounds of dynamite. He plays the drums.

On Sunday evening, Ruth Thum will sing an illustrated song entitled "The Beggar Is Not Blind Anymore." She arranged the song after a blind man was recently healed at the Pool of Siloam in Israel on the Sunshine Party Holy Land Tour last March.

The cane he used to tap his way around while he was blind will be used in the illustration.

Moose Lodge wants new home

The Belleville Lodge No. 934 of the Loyal Order of the Moose is planning to construct a new and larger Moose Lodge for the Belleville area.

A petition to rezone a land parcel of approximately 4½ acres, located on the north side of Huron River Drive between Alden Drive and Haggerty Road, has been filed with the Van Buren Township Planning Commission.

The proposed site of the new Moose Lodge is presently zoned R-1B (single family). A C-1 (local business) zoning classification is sought by officials of the lodge.

The present Moose Lodge is located in the same area but on the south side of Huron River Drive.

The commission has scheduled a public hearing on the rezoning petition for 8 p.m. Oct. 18 at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

Edward Shumera, secretary of the Belleville Lodge, filed the rezoning request. He reported the Belleville Lodge has an option to purchase the proposed land site.

Final approval on the actual construction of the new Moose Lodge will rest with officials at Moseheart, located at Moseheart, Ill.

Nine fire calls made in August

Van Buren Township's Fire Department No. 1, located in downtown Belleville, had nine fire calls during the month of August, Bert G. Smith, department secretary, reported to the township board.

The calls involved two grass fires, one barn fire, one motorcycle fire, one tree and woodpile fire caused by lightning, one playhouse fire and one false alarm.

The payroll for the month totaled $966.

MERE CHRISTIANITY

It has been asserted here that many people who claim to have accepted Christ are actually have not accepted Him since they do not acknowledge his Lordship and Headship in their lives. What is the evidence for this assertion?

Item One: Paul wrote, "Let the women keep silence in the churches" (1 Cor. 14:34), and followed with the statement that the things he wrote "are the commandment of the Lord" (v. 37). But the leading Protestant evangelist wrote in his column of September 1 that one need pay no heed to this particular commandment of the Lord — let the women speak in the churches if they want to.

Question: How can one claim to accept Christ when he overrules the Lord in such a highhanded manner?

It is the conviction here that a good many people in today's world will have more regard for the authority of Christ than that. In fact, the seeking out of those willing to accept Christ completely is the mission of this column. Let us hear from you.

MERE CHRISTIANITY is presented by the Christians who meet at 9426 S. Wayne Road in Romulus. Watch for it each week. Sunday services are at 10 (Bible study) and 11 A.M. and 6 P.M. Write for free BIBLE CORRESPONDENCE COURSE to Church of Christ, Box 155, Romulus, Michigan, 48174.

Plans are being made for the third annual Wayne County Snowmobile Summer Drag Races, which will be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 23 and 24 at the Wayne County Sportsmen's Club on Inkster Rd., Romulus (between Pennsylvania and Sibley Roads). Registration will be from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and the races start at 12:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Admission is $1.50 for adults, children 12 and under will be admitted free. This is a M.I.S.A. points sanctioned race and it will take place rain or shine.

Jack Shick of Romaine Street sustained face, arm and leg injuries (not too serious) and wrecked his new racer while participating in races at Manistee last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frasier Jr. of Clark Road have just returned from a week's stay at the "Stardust" in Las Vegas. While there, they enjoyed seeing Tom Jones in person at the Caesars Palace.

Mrs. Frank Kovachich of Aston Drive returned home Friday after being in St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor for two weeks for hip surgery. She is now convalescing at home.

Members of the United Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Romulus and New Boston United Methodist churches will participate in a camping trip this weekend. The group is for young folks from the 7th through 12th grades.

Mrs. Marlene Svacha and five-month-old daughter, Debbie, are now residing near Seoul, Korea. They flew there in late summer to be near their husband and father, SP-4 David Svacha, who is serving with the U.S. Army there. Mrs. Svacha is the former Marlene Kadau of Ferndale Street.

Free classes in reading, spelling, writing and arithmetic will be taught this fall at Romulus Senior High School, 9650 S. Wayne Rd. Classes will start Tuesday, Sept. 19. They will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. This is valuable preparation for GED tests and Adult High School. Folks wishing to sign up should call 941-1600 right away.

Remove warts
PRAGUE (AP) — Czech paper "Mlada Fronta" reports a 96 per cent success in treating warts with a single application of fluid nitrogen stored at minus 200 degrees centigrade. The treatment leaves no scars and can be used on the face or anywhere and at any age.

Pete Glaab of Hannan Road is reported improving at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor, where he has been a patient for the past month. Local friends can write him by addressing mail to Room 454 at the hospital.

The Council on Ministries for the Romulus and New Boston United Methodist Churches will meet Monday

Sept. 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the New Boston church.

Senior Girl Scout Troop 345 enjoyed a four-day camping and sightseeing trip in Northern Michigan in late August. The girls camped overnight in state parks and visited the Locks, Mackinaw Island, the Fort at Mackinaw City and Hartwick Pines near Lake Higgins. Making the trip were Addell Austin, Collette Austin, Denise Charelle and Shirley Lamberson. They were accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Harley Savage.

The first fall meeting for Senior Girl Scout Troop 345 will be held Thursday, Sept. 21, at the United Methodist Church on Olive Street from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Parents are invited to attend. The troop is open to interested girls from grades 10 through 12.

The Romulus Metro-International Airport Chamber of Commerce is presently holding its members' yearly "Retail Sales Promotional Campaign."

One hundred dollars in cash will be given to the lucky person whose name is drawn at 3 p.m., on Saturday, Sept. 30, in the Chamber of Commerce office, 36518 Goddard Rd.

To be eligible for the drawing, a shopper must make a purchase according to the respected stores' individual "minimum purchase requirement" or deal in a "required business transaction" at all other participating business locations.

The shopper then receives a ticket and his or her name is automatically placed in contention for the $100 cash drawing.

There will not be a limit on the number of purchases or transactions one can make during the time of the campaign. A ticket will be issued for every legitimate purchase or transaction, and all participating members will have their individual requirement posted in their respected places of business.

Tickets for this drawing are presently available in the following business establishments:

Romulus Hardware, 36558 Goddard Rd.
Dolores' Resale Shop, 12066 Wayne Rd.

Dr. Dolores Paskal of Detroit, former staff development consultant for DARTE (the Wayne County Intermediate School District's Drug Abuse Reduction Through Education) has been appointed to conduct a one-year federal study grant, "Planning for Alternatives in Education."

The one-year study of Alternatives in Education will locate, describe and examine the following:

— promising alternative programs in Wayne County, in Michigan, and nationally.
— needs for alternative learning options for Wayne County youth.
— possible roles for local school districts in starting and running alternative forms of education.

Further activities planned by Director Paskal include the development and dissemination of the following:

— position statements evaluating new forms of education.
— strategies for introducing and operating needed alternatives.
— guidelines and criteria to implement successful alternative educational experiences.
— operational programs appropriate to local and intermediate school districts.
— Alternatives in education will look at promising new forms of education, schooling and experiences, and will recommend how intermediate districts can help public education rearrange its resources to provide more choices to children and youth," concludes Director Paskal.

Dr. Paskal resides at 2916 Seminole, Detroit, with her husband, Oscar, and daughter, Alison.

Guppy swim awards go to 53

Awards in the Guppy Swimming Program, one of the many activities of Van Buren Township's Summer Recreation schedule, were presented to 53 Belleville area children.

The award, consisting of an arm patch co-designed by Ben Robertson, Guppy swim coach, and William A. Loyd, director of the township's summer recreation program, were presented to the graduates during an open house affair held Sunday at Edison Pointe Park Club House.

The 101-acre park, owned by the Detroit Edison Co., was open to the general public by the company on the request of the Van Buren Township Lake and Park Committee. The Committee spearheaded a campaign to get voter approval in the November general election on transferring the lake and park ownership from the firm to the township.

This past summer four classes of Guppies graduated. The Guppy swimming classes were for children between the ages of four and five.

Receiving the awards were the following children: Denise Smith, Jack Reed, Donna Ferguson, Theresa Davis, Carol Calloway, Shawn and Shari Ferguson, Rebecca Mott, Kevin Greszik, Murray Cos, Jana Steiger, Jill Pence, Cheryl Luebe, Dennis Montie, Paul Przysup, Sam Druker, Steve and Jeff Memering, Anne Conley, Todd Atchinson, Carol Carlson.

Others receiving the award were: Susan Matthews, Brian and Mike Goleniak, Mark Burger, Melissa Trevorow, Donald and Steve Garlick, Steven Glenn, Bobby Glaspie, Cathi Habel Lori Russ, Aron and Shelley Kosht, Donna Hall, Colleen Gleason, Kimberly Mickus, Karla Vollberg, Gregory and Dale Farmer, Dann Hennells, Rick Oberg, T. J. Hooten, Laurie Brooks, Jeffery and Michelle Miller, Billy Rigli, Patrick Ongley, Scott Dewicki, J. R. Gramlich, Laura Troxell, Hayley Fensch and Becky Mott.

Graduates unable to attend the open house affair can pick up their award at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

members that although the developers have an option to buy the land site, the listed owner of the property, Edward Sherman of 10670 W. Nine Mile Rd., Oak Park, has not expressed his opinion on the rezoning of his property.

Following council's approval of the rezoning, Councilman Pennington requested that the Romulus Planning Commission be directed to consider handling appropriate future multiple family (R-M) rezoning requests in the manner which the G.E. Wash Construction Co. request was processed and approved.

Pennington was supported in his request by Councilman Edwards, and the council unanimously agreed.

Urban renewal land sale to be reviewed

The Romulus City Council is scheduled to review a proposed contract for the sale of land in the initial phase of the urban renewal program, George Wilhelm, urban renewal director, announced Monday.

The land sale contract, if and when approved by the city council, will involve the sale of 175 acres of land located in the Wayne-Beverly roads area, to a private developer or developers.

A total of 290 single-family homes are to be built in the first phase. The homes will range in price from $25,000 to $35,000.

The total urban renewal program in Romulus embraces 575 acres of land in the Wayne-Beverly roads area.

The city's entire redevelopment program as currently proposed will take several more years to complete.

Wilhelm also reported that of the 44 structures and dwelling units ordered demolished under a city-approved demolition contract, 39 have been demolished and the land cleared.

He also added that an improvement program on the Romulus portion of Boice Drain is under way.

Rec chief raps personnel

The 1972 Summer Recreation Program, sponsored and supervised by the Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation, was successful but still didn't reach all of the community, especially in the suburbs.

In his quarterly report to the council, Frank J. Tolish, recreation director, pointed out that some of the seasonal personnel selected lacked imagination, and some required constant supervision, especially on some of the evening programs.

He said he felt programs conducted from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily were too much for one man to be responsible for without consideration given to a full-time summer assistant. Tolish said he also is expected to have time remaining to coordinate state and federal projects which requires travel and planning.

The director told the council that future needs require consideration for a full-time summer assistant to expand the variety of programs both evenings and on weekends. He also reported that federal funding for mobile recreation is being investigated.

He added that the need for city recreational building facilities becomes greater if recreational facility use fees are charged to the city's recreation programs in the future.

number of persons in the 38th District favoring dog racing and object to my position," Mahalak said Monday.

"My record will show that when House Bill 2588 was referred for voting May 17, 1965, I voted no and on May 28, 1965, I voted again against adopting greyhound racing," Mahalak added.

He also pointed out his record shows him voting against dog racing (House Bill 3482) on March 18, 1968, March 26, 1968, April 3, 1968, April 9, 1968 and on April 10, 1968.

The method used this year was to include thoroughbred harness and greyhound racing into one bill, Mahalak said.

"Now, during 1972, those promoting dog racing are at it again, and I don't intend to vote in favor of this legislation," Mahalak said.

The state representative disclosed he is in receipt of a letter written by John A. Maclellan explaining his position and charging attempts are being made by the news media to defeat the greyhound racing legislation by attacking his integrity, credibility and reputation. It is also claimed that anti-Michigan horse monopoly interest is involved.

"The only comments that I can make regarding these charges, if the facts are true, is that court action should commence against those guilty of such action," Mahalak said.

Romulus studies plumbing code

A new comprehensive Romulus City Plumbing Code, including a chapter to the Romulus Building Ordinance on city certification for building occupancy, is under study by the Romulus City Council.

Both the new plumbing code and mandatory requirement for city certification before a building can be occupied was prepared by Clayton W. Meldrum, manager of the Romulus Building Department, and the city's legal counsel, John E. Young.

The two proposed regulations regarding building construction and occupancy were introduced at the Sept. 5 session of the city council.

Certification would be required prior to a building's occupancy that all building, heating, electrical and plumbing codes have been met.

The city some time ago adopted an all-embracing building ordinance. The plumbing code and certification chapters as presented to the council are new, Meldrum reported.

Family receives washer

The Romulus Jaycees' special project — "Community Involvement" — recently was able to give a needy family a washing machine.

This, however, only partially completes the project, since the Jaycees also hope to give the family a gas dryer.

In addition, the Jaycees have been able to supply food on an emergency basis and also re-roof a house.

Citizens are reminded that all information is handled with discretion and that requests can be made at any time by either the direct party or by friends.

All requests however, are asked to be in writing. Information may be directed to Joseph Verryser at 941-0590, or Tom Von Glahn at 941-4320.

Police chief warns drivers

Area motorists were given a reminder Monday to drive with due care and caution, especially in areas where children are going to and from school.

Romulus Police Chief Jacob J. Koch issued an urgent appeal to car drivers, pointing out that since area schools have resumed classes for the new school year, drivers should be alert and obey all traffic regulations.

"Remember the life you save may be your own. Children at times may be forgetful, but a motorist can't afford to be. So it pays to be careful when behind the wheel," said Chief Koch.

All a motorist has to do is drive each street as if it was his own, the police chief said.

He asked all motorists to join the recently announced safety program entitled "Think Small — Drive Carefully, Please!" It is a program designed to educate motorists to save the lives of the small ones and help to reduce accidents involving children.

State parties pick from opposite areas

By DON HOENSHELL Associated Newspapers Lansing Bureau

Michigan's two major political parties have marched off in opposite directions for the Nov. 7 election each into its own sunset.

Republicans nominated nine candidates from outstate and one from Detroit for the educational boards and the Supreme Court.

Democrats a week earlier clustered all but one of theirs from within 48 miles of Detroit, a decision on geography that reflects the historic power center of the party.

Republicans chose Calhoun County Juvenile Judge Mary S. Coleman, president of the Michigan Probate Judges' Association, as one of their two candidates for the Michigan Supreme Court.

She is the first Republican woman nominated to the high bench. Democrats in the 1950s had another woman on their statewide executive ticket, the late Margaret Price of Ann Arbor, who ran unsuccessfully for elective auditor general.

The candidates will join U. S. Senator Robert P. Griffin, the Republican seeking his second term after 10 years in the House, against the challenge of Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

Historically, the Supreme Court candidates, who must run as nonpartisans, and the educational board nominees have been beneficiaries of straight-ticket balloting.

They are normally lesser known politically and must either conduct instant campaigns to develop a following or ride the coattails of the top of the ticket.

Following are the candidates of both parties who will appear on the Nov. 7 ballot:

MICHIGAN SUPREME COURT

Republican Mary S. Coleman of Battle Creek, a practicing attorney for 32 years, probate judge for 12, wife of Circuit Judge Creighton Coleman who was Michigan Senate majority leader in the 1950s.

Republican James S. Thorburn of Oakland county, a circuit judge who has served as a one-man grand juror.

Democrat Horace W. Gilmore, Wayne County circuit judge, former deputy attorney general, former chairman of the panel which drafted the state's new judiciary code, now awaiting final legislative action.

Democrat Robert L. Evans of Detroit, a Detroit Recorder's Court judge, first appointed to the bench Oct. 1, 1968 by former Gov. George Romney.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Republican William Sederberg, a Michigan State University graduate assistant in political science.

Republican Edmund F. VanDette of Houghton, a professor of political science at Michigan Technological University, the only Upper Peninsula nominee of either party.

Democrat Dr. Charles Morton, a Detroit clergyman, who has served on a board since its creation eight years ago as its only black member.

Democrat Gumecindo Salas, a chicano activist who is a graduate student at Wayne State University, where he is a member of the faculty.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN BOARD OF REGENTS

Democrat Marjorie Lansing, an Eastern Michigan University teacher.

Democrat Thomas Roach, a Democratic party activist for a number of years.

Republican Lawrence Lindemer of Stockbridge, former House member, former state Republican chairman, appointed as a regent to fill an unexpired term.

Republican Deane Baker of Ann Arbor, a Grand Valley College trustee, past president of the Detroit Urban League and Washtenaw county Republican chairman.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Democrat Donna O'Donohue of East Lansing, a recent Michigan State University graduate who identified herself at the Democratic state convention as the publisher of a monthly newspaper in Berrien County.

Democrat Town Downs, a Lansing attorney long connected with Democratic affairs, former member of the Law Revision Commission, Democratic legislative aide.

Republican Aubrey Radcliff, aide to the Republican State Central committee, the state's national committeeman for Young Republicans.

Republican Dr. Jack Stack of Alma, leader in the abortion reform campaign, a general practitioner, party leader in Gratiot county.

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY BOARD OF CONTROL

Republican Wilbur M. Brucker Jr., chairman of the WSU board, son of the former governor.

Republican Kurt Keydel, vice chairman of the WSU board. Democrat Kathleen Straus, former leader in the League of Women Voters and active in its campaign for the constitutional convention of 1961-62.

Democrat Michael Einheuser, 20, a Detroit student and construction worker. His nomination was a nod to the youth movement in the party.

From the group of eight educational post nominees from each party will come those who will help fix K-12 and college standards for the next eight years.

Will PTSA go way of Egypt, Rome, China?

To the Editor:
Editor's Note: The following message, written by William M. Quiney, president of the Parents, Teachers and Students Association (PTSA) is an appeal to PTSA members and others to support PTSA in the Romulus Community.

To the Parents, Teachers and Students Association of Romulus Senior High School.
The Purpose of Existence.

No one can follow it down through the ages without realizing that the whole purpose of existence is growth. Life is dynamic — not stagnant. It is ever moving forward — not standing still. The one unpardonable sin of nature is to stand still; to be stagnant.

The Gigantosaurs, that were over a 100 feet long and as big as a house; the Tyrannosaurus, that had the strength of a locomotive and was the last word in frightfulness; the Pterodactyl or Flying Dragon;

All the giant monsters of prehistoric ages are gone, they ceased to serve a useful purpose. They did not know how to meet the changing conditions and stood still while life around them passed them by.

A Short Look at the Book of Life.
Egypt and Persia, Greece and Rome. All the great empires of antiquity perished when they ceased to grow. China built a wall about herself and stood still for 1,000 years. Today she is the football of the powers. In all nature, to cease to grow is to perish.

It is the men and women who are not ready to stand still, that refuse to cease to grow. Desire is the first law of gain; so if a student has a sincere desire for knowledge, he or she will learn. Which means growth.

We, as parents and teachers, remind me of a very sad day in the life of Israel. This day was referred to as the "Wantonness of Israel." Amos 6-1, "Woe to them that are at ease in Zion."

There is one thing I must say for Romulus Senior High School that stands out like a sore thumb — the three way system:

- The parents go one way
- The teachers just the opposite
- The students go in a different direction

So that adds up to a stand still in PTSA.

Parents, where are you? Teachers, where are you? The students are waiting your "call."

First, there was the stone age, when life was for the strong of arm or the fleet of foot. Then came the "Iron Age." While life was more precious, still the strong lorded over the weak. Next came the "Golden Age" and riches took the place of strength. But the poor found little choice between slave driver's whip of olden days and the grim weapons of poverty and starvation.

Now, we are entering a new age — the "Mental Age," when every man can be his own master. When poverty and circumstance no longer hold power, when the lowest creature in the land can win a place side by side with the highest.

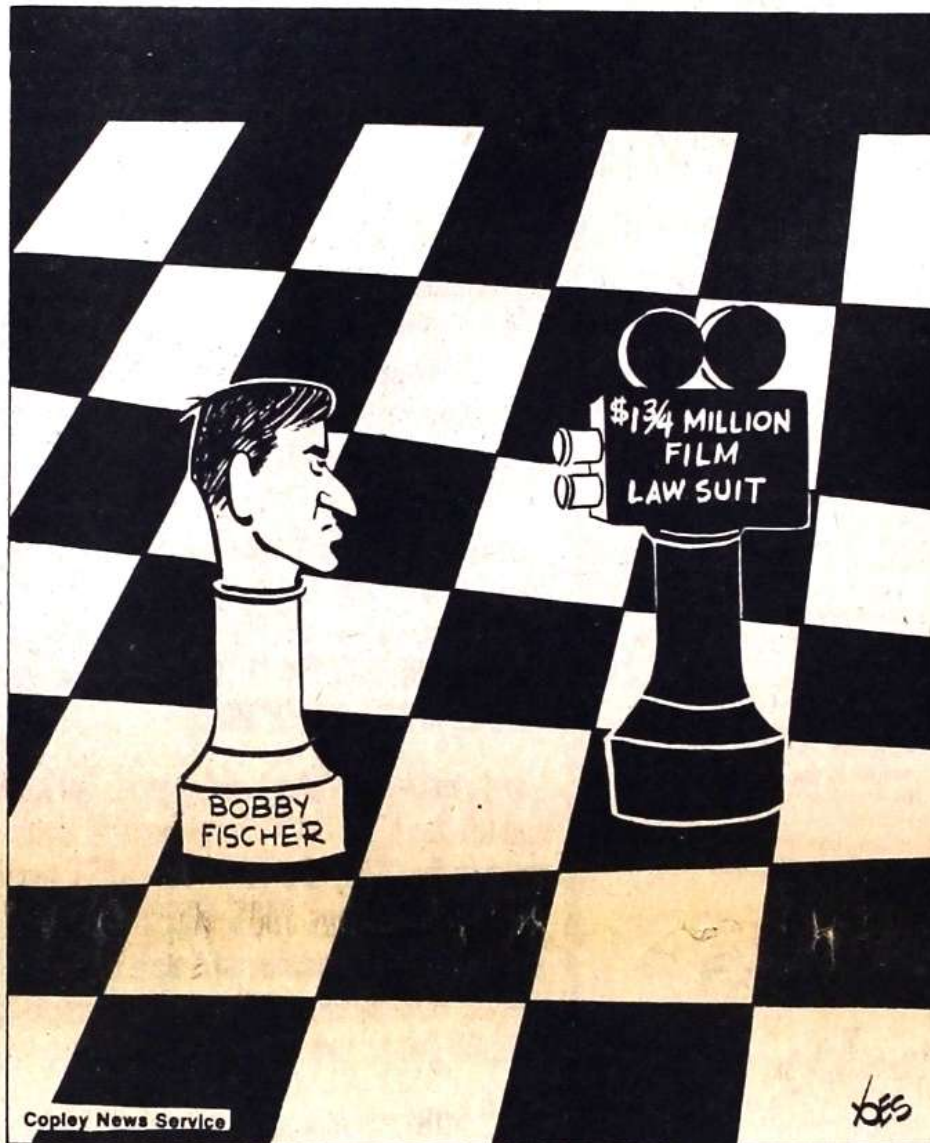

To those who do not know the resources of the three way communication, these words will sound like rash statements. But science proves beyond question that together we stand and divided we fall.

So please, Mr. & Mrs. Parents and Mr. & Mrs. Teachers, come out and support your PTSA. You will be glad you did.

We wish to thank David Fedon, teacher; Mrs. Rondal Christenson, Mrs. Loraine Kubiak, Miss Adell Austin for their 100 per cent cooperation in 1971 — and Mrs. Helen Kee and Miss Patricia Kessler.

Endangered species protected in new act

By Edward E. Mahalak
State Representative
38th District

New public acts of the state cover such areas as protection for endangered species, a new state pledge of allegiance, trailer widths and vocational-technical programs.

The bill to protect rare types of animals and reptiles is one of several environmental bills passed by the legislature this year. As signed into law, it will be illegal after next April 1 to import, sell or use the pelts of any species on the U.S. Department of the Interior's "endangered" list, which covers creatures which could become extinct.

Specifically forbidden are the sale of skins of leopards, clouded leopards, cheetahs, polar bears, red wolves, vicuñas, alligators, caimans or crocodiles. Exempted from the new law are zoos, museums, scientific research, game breeders and hunters entering the state with personal trophies.

Already on the state's protected list are mountain lions, pumas, ocelots, margays, jaguars, gray wolves, timber wolves and wild horses.

Michigan's new pledge of allegiance to the state flag, which hopefully will be put to use by schools and various youth and other organizations, reads as follows:

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of Michigan, and to the state for which it stands, two beautiful peninsulas united by a bridge of steel, where equal opportunity and justice to all is our ideal."

The trailer law amends the state motor vehicle code to extend the limit on the width of trailers that may be moved over interstate highways from 10 feet, 5 inches, to 12 feet, 6 inches. The legislation contains a number of restrictions to cover traffic safety.

Another of the new public acts permits county intermediate school districts to expand vocational-technical education by operating programs approved by the state superintendent of public instruction and to acquire vocational-technical education facilities, sites and equipment.

Another new law removes the requirement that the public health director approve plans and procedures for the review of hospital professional practices and to assure that all records, data and other hospital information collected for the review are confidential.

Other new public acts: —Revise and update the retirement system for teaching and non-teaching employees of the public schools.

—Consolidate the various state statutes dealing with the probate courts.

—Revise state laws dealing with medical practitioners.

—Modernize probate procedures involving the settling of estates.

—Give credit under municipal retirement systems for time served in the armed forces.

—Set statewide standards for the apportionment and election of county boards of commissioners.

—Require that certified psychologists conform to ethical standards set down by the State Department of Licensing and Regulation and authorize the practice of psychotherapy, which had formerly been banned in the state as a means of treating mentally, emotionally or psychosomatically ill persons.

—Permit school districts to use unspent portions of building and site funds for other projects.

—Permit juvenile courts to retain jurisdiction over persons under 19 years of age if detention in youth homes or training schools is considered appropriate. In other instances, the limit is 18 years of age.

—Permit pinball machines in liquor establishments.

In our opinion

Two changes made in policy for letters

Effective immediately, The Daily Eagle's policy for printing of letters in the "Our readers write" column has been changed to some degree.

With the rapidly approaching election, the primary concern will involve the cessation of the habitual endorsements of candidates as letters to the editor.

Letters in the past couple of weeks' column has been flooded with letters, sometimes having two or three arrive in the same envelope and other times having several written by the same person and then signed by different individuals — endorsing this or that candidate.

To make such candidate support more meaningful, people wishing to make individual endorsements will still be able to do so through paid political advertisements, which will be labeled just that — paid political ads.

This does not mean the letters column has been shut off to reader opinion of campaign issues expounded by various candidates. A reader, who in his own right probably wouldn't qualify for story coverage on an issue, will still be able to counter positions taken by candidates in the letters column.

Also, readers will still be able to express their opinions on issues of the day, whether they be of a political or every day nature. Letters on ballot proposals also will be welcome.

The second change will be the elimination of street addresses being published. Instead, we are hopeful of publishing — in general terms, of course — the letter writer's position in life, such as housewife, office clerk, truck driver, high school student, etc., along with the community in which he/she resides.

In other words, the signature would read: Mrs. John Jones, Housewife, Westland, unless the letter writer requests that his/her name be withheld.

However, the letter must still include a signature, address and phone number to qualify for consideration to be published. This part of our current policy has not changed since we must have the capability of checking out letters with the author under some circumstances.

In fact, we are holding a letter received within the past week from a Westland man, with whom we have been unable to make contact.

As has been the case previously, letters should be typed double-spaced if possible — to expedite their use — or written clearly and be limited to no more than 300 words. All letters are subject to condensation.

Letters signed with a group designation — such as Citizens for this or that — must include names, addresses and phone numbers of all persons the group signature represents. The lone exception would be the letter being signed by an officer of the group, with his/her name being published.

Naturally, all letters must be written in good taste without libelous comments or profanity.

We hope to hear from all of you some time in the future.

Ask Senator Griffin

Sailor receives 'compassionate' duty

By U.S. SEN. ROBERT P. GRIFFIN

Question: For six months I was stationed on a ship off the coast of Vietnam, but three weeks ago I was suddenly called home because my mother had a stroke. Now that I'm here with 30 days emergency leave I find that my father just can't take care of my mother, my 6 younger brothers and sisters while holding down his job at the auto plant. And my mother is not getting better. My leave is running out, but I must help out at home. Can you do anything?

—S.T., Wyandotte

Answer: We contacted the Navy Department and urged consideration for your case. Your application for a "compassionate reassignment" has been approved, and now you'll be stationed near home for the remaining four months of your enlistment. This will enable you to be of some assistance to your father. I hope your mother fully recovers.

Question: My cousin has a farm in Pennsylvania that

EDITOR'S NOTE — Senator Robert Griffin will answer questions of general interest through columns in The Daily Eagle. He will answer personally all correspondence addressed to: Sen. Robert P. Griffin, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510 was severely damaged in the recent floods. His entire crop was completely destroyed. Is there anything that can be done to help people like him? I'm a farmer too, and I'm scared that someday I'll lose my entire farm without being protected.

—S.J., Ithaca

Answer: For many years the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has offered crop insurance to eligible farmers. This insurance, available upon payment of a premium, covers unavoidable loss of production due to drought, floods, wind, frost, fire and other causes of loss due to adverse weather conditions. For more information concerning this program, write to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation South Building

Independence Avenue S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250.

Question: Again this summer some of the members of my family were hospitalized with food poisoning. Why does this happen and what can I do to prevent such contamination? T.D., Bloomfield Hills

Answer: As you probably know, food contamination occurs more frequently in warm weather because bacteria grows more rapidly when the temperature goes up. You'll be interested in a booklet published by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, entitled "Keeping Food Safe to Eat." It discusses various ways to avoid food contamination and poisoning. To obtain a copy send 10 cents to Consumer Product Information, Washington, D.C. 20407, and ask for publication No. 0160-1273.

Five on Nov. ballot

Wording of questions OK'd by canvassers

LANSING (AP) — Here are the ballot positions and wording on the five proposals that are scheduled to be on the general election ballot in Michigan in November.

Each proposal is followed by the selection "Yes" or "No." The Board of State Canvassers Wednesday released the positions.

The only one that may be subject to change is the abortion proposal. The State Supreme Court has yet to rule formally on a challenge to the proposal. However, one justice said last week the court had decided to allow it to go on the ballot.

Proposal A — Proposal to change Michigan to Daylight Saving Time.

The proposed law would change Michigan to Daylight Saving Time from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October of each year.

Should this proposed law be approved?

Proposal B—Proposal to allow abortion under certain conditions.

The proposed law would allow a licensed medical or osteopathic physician to perform an abortion at the request of the patient, if (1) the period of gestation has not exceeded 20 weeks, and (2) if the procedure is performed in a licensed hospital or other facility approved by the Department of Public Health.

Should this proposed law be approved?

Proposal C—Proposal to limit property tax for school, county and township purposes and to provide that the legislature shall establish a state tax program for support of schools.

The proposed amendment would:

(1) ban a property tax for general school operation purposes;

(2) limit the property tax to allocated amounts for specified county, township and school purposes, the total not to exceed 26 mills; and

(3) require the Legislature to establish a tax program for raising and distributing funds for public elementary and secondary schools; and

(4) Provide for distributing supplementary funds, based on local need, for specified purposes.

Should this amendment be adopted?

Proposal D—Proposal to remove constitutional ban against graduated income tax.

The proposed amendment would enable the legislature to impose a flat rate or graduated state income tax and to enact laws to permit local units to levy a flat rate or graduated income tax.

Should this amendment be adopted?

Proposal E—Proposal to allow the state to borrow $266,000,000 for tuition payments and bonuses to Vietnam and other veterans.

The proposal would allow the State of Michigan to borrow the sum of $266,000,000 to provide veterans of the Vietnam and other conflicts with tuition payments to educational institutions or a service bonus. The state shall issue general obligation bonds of the state to secure the said amount and shall pledge the full faith and credit of the state for the payment of principal and interest. The method of repayment shall be from the general fund of the state.

Should this proposal be approved?

Veteran poster deadline is Sept. 25

The local deadline in the national high school "Hire A Veteran" poster contest is Sept. 25.

Savings bonds worth thousands of dollars will be awarded to local and state winners throughout the country, the prizes having been donated by local, state and national veterans and other service organizations.

Students in grades 9-12 in public, parochial and private schools are eligible. Poster sizes are restricted to 17-by-22 inches.

Three winners in each state will be announced by Oct. 10. The three national winners, who will receive scholarships amounting to $1,500, $1,000 and $500 respectively, will be announced on Oct. 21 at a special ceremony in the nation's capital.

Students requiring additional information may contact their high school art director, principal or nearest VA office.

While VA does not have the primary responsibility for finding jobs for veterans, it has been instrumental in bringing thousands of veterans and prospective employers together at job fairs and job fairs throughout the country.

Also, nearly 70,000 jobs have been obtained for veterans through 72 VA assistance centers, an increase of 83 per cent over June, 1971 figures.

VA leads all federal agencies in the hiring of Vietnam Era veterans, it was pointed out, with 15,014 on its rolls as of June 30. VA is currently hiring Vietnam veterans at the rate of about 1,000 a month.

Christian Scientist speaks at Willow Run Tuesday

An explanation of prayer as Christian Scientists understand it, and why they depend on it radically for healing, will be given at Willow Run High School Tuesday evening by Jules Cern, C.S., of Scarsdale, N.Y.

Mr. Cern, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, Spencer Lane, Ypsilanti.

The lecture is titled "The Truth That Heals." Admission is free.

Mr. Cern's lecture is sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Ypsilanti. He has been a public practitioner of Christian Science and a lecturer on the subject for many years.

Before entering the healing ministry of Christian Science, Mr. Cern was an advertising manager and also a professional actor. He appeared in several plays on the Broadway stage and toured most of the United States and Canada. He is a native of Texas.

Time needed to straighten out city's housing problems

George Wilhelmi, new director of the Romulus Public Housing Commission, reported Monday it will take several weeks to straighten out various problems existing in the city's first public housing project containing 101 dwelling units.

Wilhelmi, who also is director of the Romulus Urban Renewal Office, was named by the City Council last week to take over the part-time directorship of the public housing development. The Public Housing Commission and Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael dismissed William Duncan, who held the director's job for the last 19 months at a salary of $6,600.

In announcing Duncan's dismissal, the mayor stated the commission felt Duncan did not give the job the attention it needed.

Wilhelmi reported some of the public housing units need repairs, while others are behind in rent. Some have purchase orders for materials and labor dating back to August, 1971, according to one council member.

Duncan is full-time director of housing in the City of River Rouge at a salary of $17,500 per year. He held this position while serving as part-time director of the Romulus Public Housing Complex.

Township collects more permit fees

The Van Buren Township Building Department issued 179 permits during the month of August, and permit fees collected amounted to $5,173, Darryl Robson, chief building inspector, reported Monday.

In July, the department issued 160 permits and collected $4,550 in fees.

There were 33 residential building permits issued in August with an estimated construction cost of $200,574. Of this amount, $122,792 was for the construction of one-family dwellings.

In July, 33 residential building permits were issued for a reported construction cost of $1,378,327.

Commercial construction in August amounted to $101,500. Additions and alterations to residential property amounted to $49,600.

The electrical division of the building department issued 71 permits and collected $2,146 in fees. The heating division issued 35 permits and collected $574 in fees, and the plumbing division issued 31 permits and collected $1,590 in fees.

Repair contract drafted

The Romulus City Council has authorized City Attorney John E. Young and Building Inspector Clayton W. Meldrum to draft a contract for the maintenance and repair of the heating and cooling systems in the municipal building and library.

The contract will be between the city and Honeywell

Inc. of Detroit. The council ordered that the contract be for a five-year period instead of two or three years, at an annual cost of $15,785.

The council's approved the contract unanimously.

Ronald E. Kirkpatrick, service manager of the commercial division of Honeywell, made the firm's presentation to council, which was later accepted and approved with stipulation by the council.

MR. AND MRS. DALE W. BURGER

Burger-Tontalo united

Belleville couple wed in summer ceremony

A week-long honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Canada followed the August 12 wedding of Patricia Anne Tontalo and Dale William Burger, both of Belleville. The couple, 1971 graduates of Belleville High School, exchanged double ring vows before the Rev. Raymond S. Skoney at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Brass vases filled with pink gladiolus along with potted palms and candelabras adorned the altar for the five o'clock nuptials which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tontalo of 37 Madelon Street and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burger of 6611 Sheldon Road.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her father, Patti appeared in a toe-touching creation of rosepoint lace over white tulle, the lace ruffled neckline being repeated on the long, tapered sleeves. The little fitted bodice was sprinkled with tiny seed pearls and rhinestones. The A-line skirt was designed with a full, chapel train bordered with scalloped lace which was later drawn up into a bustle for the reception.

HER NYLON TULLE veil was held by a lace petal headpiece enhanced with pearls and rhinestones. Completing was an old-fashioned nuptial norgay of pink and white roses, carnations, daisies, orange blossoms, baby's breath, and pink streamers.

Donna Grzesik of Belleville was maid of honor for her best friend. She was distinguished by the veiled Juliet cap which she wore as well as the bouquet she held which was comprised of pink and white carnations and baby's breath centered with a circle of roses. Her turquoise A-line frock matched those worn by the bride's three sisters, Becky, Sandy and Sherry Tontalo, who were bridesmaids. Fashioned in the A-line mode, the organza dresses featured long full sleeves ending in wide white lace cuffs, lace mandarin collars and bib bodices.

The latter trio wore long, turquoise streamers in their hair and carried nosegays of pink and white carnations and baby's breath.

BEST MAN was Ron Carter of Wayne. Others on the esquire side were Bart Burger, brother of the bridegroom; Lance Ammon of Belleville; and Jeff Carter of Wayne.

At the reception, which followed at Roma Hall in Livonia, Mrs. Tontalo greeted the 250 guests in a powder blue formal gown with lace accenting the wide cuffs and yoke. Her corsage was comprised of pink rosebuds, carnations and baby's breath. Mrs. Burger, the bridegroom's mother, received in a pale pink gown with an empire lace bodice. The corsage she wore was made up of pink and white carnations, rosebuds and baby's breath.

Included in the relatives signing the guest book circulated by Ann Tontalo, the bride's cousin, were Miss Ana Stacia Tontalo of Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania and Mrs. Mary Bauss of Lyndell, Pennsylvania, great-aunts of the bride; and Don and Jo Tontalo of Washington, D.C. Mrs. Bauss made the special floral centerpiece which was used at the bride's table.

THE NEW Mrs. Burger is employed as a secretary in Eastern Michigan University's Married Housing Department. Her husband is attending R.E.T.S. College in Detroit for computer technician and electronics training. He is employed by General Motors at Willow Run.

Following the wedding rehearsal, the Don Burgers entertained both families, the wedding party and Father Skoney at dinner in the Sweden House in Allen Park.

The newlyweds are now making their home at 47001 Waters Edge Lane, Apt. A-117, Belleville.

A hot lunch

"Skinless" frankfurters and sausages are made by stuffing cellulosic casings with a spicy chopped beef and pork mixture. After cooking, the casing is peeled away. For the lunchbox, tie a string around a "skinless" frankfurter and lower into a thermos of hot tomato soup. Include a buttered bun spread with mustard for eating with the hot frankfurter. It's a great soup and sandwich lunch.

Getting married? Tell us about it

Want to share that 'special day' with those who are unable to be present, in person, for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you — and at no charge — if you'll simply follow a few guidelines.

The Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the 'start of it all.'

Forms may be picked up at our office, 405 Main Street, (we're in the old Township Hall now) anytime during the week or will be mailed out if a telephone request is made. Call the Women's Editor at 697-9191.

When scallions are on hand, add them—instead of regular onion—to potato salad.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Perhaps the biggest problem facing the church today is the mood of the people: their indifference to the church. There seems to be an aloofness beyond human understanding. This is especially true in personal responsibility in the church.

Can any one explain what good it does to sing, "Had I a thousand hearts to give, Lord, they should all be Thine" ... and then refuse Him the talent, time and money needed to carry on church work? Contrary to often held opinion, churches are NOT well off financially.

Percentage wise, missionary work is no where near the norm of former times. Daily expense of the church building such as heat, light and maintenance go up and up. Underpaid ministers (in all denominations) have been given, on an average, only a 17 per cent increase over a five year period. This is the lowest increase in ANY profession, or in skilled or even unskilled labor. Isn't it about time to realize spiritual abundance is impossible without a sensible accounting of personal stewardship to God?...

Grady-Scheffer vows read at St. Anthony's

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums and gladiolas graced the altar of St. Anthony's Catholic Church August 5 as Rita Ann Scheffer and Michael Grady exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands.

Father Raymond S. Skoney presided at the five o'clock ceremony which united the daughter of Mrs. Alleda Scheffer of 6575 Parkside, Belleville, and the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Francis Grady of 3320 Merritt, Ypsilanti.

The bride was escorted to the sanctuary by her grandfather, John Bradley. For her wedding day she chose a floor-length gown of white lace and crepe designed with long, lace wrist-point sleeves and a softly-gathered skirt.

HER FINGERTIP VEIL, edged with matching lace, was secured by a crescent design of lace leaves over crystals. The cascade bouquet she carried was comprised of white carnations and roses with ribbon streamers for accent.

Karen Chevela of Belleville was asked to be maid of honor. The pink formal gown she wore was trimmed with daisies with her two-tiered veil being held by a single large daisy. Completing the outfit was a bouquet of pink roses and white daisies.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ersey Roque of Ypsilanti and a cousin of the bride, Susan Mayer of Belleville. Their dresses, in aqua, were identical to the honor maid's and their colonial bouquet contained pink roses and blue daisies.

Five-year old Rebecca King, daughter of the Duane Kings of Belleville, served as flowergirl in a pink floor-length frock with daisy trim. Her little nosegay was made up of white daisies and pink roses.

BEST MAN was the bridegroom's cousin, Robert Connor of Milan. Ushers were his brothers-in-law, Jeff Gunnis of Milan and Ted Waterstradt of Dundee.

The bride's mother chose a pink crepe dress for the occasion and added pink sweetheart roses at the shoulder while the bridegroom's mother donned a blue and white polyester frock and white sweetheart roses.

Some 150 guests gathered at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Ypsilanti for the reception which followed. The newlyweds later departed for a week-long honeymoon in the Canadian Rockies.

The new Mrs. Grady is a 1966 graduate of Belleville High School currently employed at Canteen Corporation, Ypsilanti. Her husband was graduated from Milan High in 1964, attended Washtenaw Community College and is a member of the Moose and Eagles Lodges. He is an employee of Ted Doman, Ceiling and Plastering Contractor, in Ann Arbor.

The August 3 rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents, the Francis Gradys, at their home in Ypsilanti.

MRS. JACK L. TENNIS

Newly wed Tennises honeymoon in Florida

In a candlelight ceremony September 2 at the Belleville Freewill Baptist Church, Carole Ann Reavis became the bride of Jack Lawrence Tennis.

Entering the church with her father, the bride appeared in a formal gown of lace and chiffon, the fitted lace bodice being fashioned with a high neckline and long tapering sleeves. Her illusion veil fell to mid-back length from a crescent of cotton lace leaves and she carried cascading white daisies.

The Rev. Billy Brown presided at the seven o'clock nuptials before some 175 assembled guests.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Aaron A. Reavis of 44675 Robson, Belleville, and Mrs. Lawrence Tennis of Hillman and the late Mr. Tennis.

CHARLOTTE REAVIS as her sister's maid of honor wore a gown of yellow chiffon over taffeta designed in floor-length with a white bolero trimmed in orange and yellow flowers. Her yellow satin bow headpiece was trimmed with pink-centered daisies and her bouquet contained yellow daisies and pink carnations.

Bridesmaids in matching pink ensembles were Marilyn Tennis of Hillman, sister of the bridegroom, and Rose Lopis of Warren. Faith Barbee, the bride's cousin from Punta Gorda, Florida, served as junior attendant in yellow.

Carrying white baskets filled with yellow daisies and pink carnations were the two little flowergirls, Shelly Tennis and Cheri Reavis, both three and a half years old. Kevin Tennis, two and a half, carried out the role of ringbearer.

THE BRIDEGROOM, who resided at 4671 Chipman, Pontiac (the couple's new address) asked his cousin, Gary Rose of Lapeer, to be his best man. Groomsmen were Louis Dick of Hillman; Darrell Kelly of Marion, cousin of the bridegroom; Robert Reavis of Belleville, brother of the bride; and Lee Barbee of Punta Gorda, Florida, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother was escorted up the aisle wearing a floor-length pastel print gown in double knit while Mrs. Tennis, the bridegroom's mother donned a formal gown of purple velvet trimmed in white satin. Both were presented with corsages of white carnations.

The Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville was reserved for the reception which followed after which the newlyweds left for a two-weeks honeymoon in Florida.

The new Mrs. Tennis was graduated from Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing on August 26. Her husband, a 1965 alumnus of Hillman High School, served with the U.S. Army and is now employed at Pontiac Motors in Pontiac.

Blanch vegetables before freezing

"No matter what you've heard, blanching is the best way to achieve top quality in your home-frozen vegetables," says Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University. Blanching is essential, she explains, because it destroys the enzymes that cause undesirable changes in the color, flavor and texture of vegetables. Freezing alone will not do this. Though these changes are not harmful, they do decrease the overall quality of the food.

To blanch green beans, for example, wash them thoroughly in cool water and discard any of inferior quality. Then, in a large kettle with a lid, heat a gallon of water to a rolling boil. Put a quart of green beans in a perforated metal basket or cheesecloth and immerse them in the boiling water. Put the lid on the kettle and begin to count time at once. Do not wait for the water to come back to the boiling point.

Green beans should be blanched three to four minutes. The time varies with the texture of the vegetable. Small ears of corn on the cob, for instance, require about seven minutes, while corn cut off the cob requires four minutes and peas only one and one-half minutes.

Chilling the blanched vegetables immediately in cold running water or ice water is important to stop any further cooking and to maintain color and texture.

Chill vegetables quickly and do not let them stand in water any longer than necessary. Soaking increases loss of their water-soluble nutrients.

As soon as the vegetables have drained thoroughly, they should be dry packed into jars or plastic containers within one-half inch of the top and frozen at once.

Canned meat for emergency

Canned meats provide a quick answer to a cook's SOS in a menu emergency. Candidates for the rescue cupboard's stock include cans of corned beef or roast beef hash, chili con carne, luncheon meat, beef stew, sandwich steaks, barbecued beef, beef in gravy, chop suey and dozens of other possibilities.

Five area residents earn practical nurse degrees

Fifty-seven students were graduated from the 47th class to graduate from the one-year program in Practical Nurse Education conducted by the Ann Arbor Public Schools Practical Nurse Education Program. The exercises were held in the Ann Arbor Huron High School auditorium at 8:00 P.M.

The commencement speaker was Mrs. Jane Maslin, L.P.N., a graduate of the 39th graduation class. Dr. James Buford, minister of the Forest Avenue Baptist Church of Ypsilanti, gave the Invocation and Benediction. Dr. R. Bruce McPherson, Superintendent presented greeting from the Administration and Board of Education, and Earl Schaffer, Director of Occupational Training presented the certificates. The student response was given by Mr. Roger Lundell.

Since the program's beginning in September 1949, over 1700 students have been graduated. The majority of these graduates are now working in hospitals, doctor's offices, and health agencies throughout Southeastern Michigan.

The program affiliates with St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor; Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti; Annapolis Hospital, Wayne; Emma L. Bixby Hospital, in Adrian and Wyandotte General Hospital, Wyandotte, for clinical practice for the students. Students spend four months at the teaching center in Ypsilanti and the remainder of the year at one of the affiliations.

Additional information regarding the program may be obtained by writing Miss Mae Edna Doyle, R.N., Director of the program at Meadowview School, 4377 Textile Rd. Ypsilanti, MI. 48197 or by calling (313) 434-2311.

Among those graduating from this area were Sandra Lynn Dobozy, 25688 Waltz Road, New Boston; Mrs. Katharine Marie Hurd, 38102 Castle Drive, Romulus; Valerie Jean Rohler, 8559 Belleville Road, Belleville; and Linda Sands, 29109 Van Horn Road, New Boston.

A former area resident, Mrs. Marie Ferguson Doser of 2200 Fuller Road, Ann Arbor, was also included in the group. A graduate of Belleville High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Ferguson of Judd Road, Belleville.

MRS. DOSER

Couple set October 14 altar date

The engagement of their daughter, Ramona Ann Mundy, to Dale E. Philpott is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Orville R. Mundy of 76 E. Columbia Avenue, Belleville.

Miss Mundy, a Belleville High School graduate, is making plans for an October 14 wedding at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Onaway. The prospective bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerald Reid of Onaway, is an alumnus of Onaway High School now attending North Central Michigan College.

A center-cut smoked ham slice will serve three to four persons.

Cheese accent

Cover cooked asparagus spears with Parmesan cheese sauce and brown under the broiler. Good served with deviled or scrambled eggs.

Top cream of corn soup with crumbled crisply cooked bacon.

Commissioners declare 'Rescue Rouge Week'

The period of Sept. 16-24 will be "Rescue the Rouge Week" in Wayne County by proclamation of the County Board of Commissioners. The commissioners adopted the resolution at their Sept. 7 meeting to stimulate public support for the plans of two groups of citizen volunteers to clear debris from the Rouge River during that period. The county legislators also are expected to allocate a total of $17,500 to provide heavy equipment and operates to assist the volunteers, as was done last year. A $10,000 appropriation for the county drain commissioner already has been approved. The board's Ways and Means Committee is expected to act Sept. 14 on a

Public Works Committee recommendation that another $7,500 be allocated to permit the County Parks Division to assist also. A total of some 6,000 volunteers are expected to participate in two clean-up operations which will be conducted by the "Rescue the Rouge" Committee and by the Western Wayne District 30 Jaycees. The resolution adopted by the County Commissioners urges citizen participation in the clean-up efforts, stating: "The members of these groups are performing a vital public service that is worthy of special recognition, and deserve support and encouragement for their spectacular contribution to ecology and the preservation of national surroundings." Organizations sponsoring the "Rescue the Rouge" Committee include the Detroit Outdoorsmen, the Wayne County Sportsmen's Club, District 1 of the Michigan

United Conservation Clubs, the Cherokee Circle Civic Association, Participating chapters of the Western Wayne District 30 Jaycees include Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City and Westland.

Panax papers names production director

The newly created position of director of production for the Panax Newspapers in Michigan will be filled by F. Marion Marsh of South Bend, Ind.

Marsh, 47, has been building and equipment engineer for the South Bend Tribune since 1971. Since 1955 he has served in a variety of production capacities for the Tribune.

According to Panax Executive Vice President Michael L. Dow, "The Panax

Newspapers have reached the point where future production needs require a skilled and experienced person in all forms of hot and cold type composition and printing. Besides those skills, Marion Marsh also brings to Panax his experience in newspaper computer use and plant and building layout."

A native of Kansas, Marsh attended Kansas State Teachers College and Kansas State College. Before serving in World War II as an infantry sergeant, he owned, edited, and published the weekly Kincaid (Kan.) Dispatch.

As the author of many articles in trade publications and through numerous speaking engagements, Marsh has shared his knowledge on such subjects as computer readers and punches, text-editing systems, copy control, quality control, letterfix printing and computerized classified sections. He is vice president of the Great Lakes Mechanical Conference.

Dow also said Marsh would spend a great deal of time visiting Panax production facilities to assess current and future needs.

Marsh, his wife and two children plan to live in Okemos.

Belleville coed crowned '1972 Cinderella'

A Belleville coed majoring in occupational therapy at Eastern Michigan University, who missed attending all of her senior year in high school while recovering from tuberculosis, today was named "1972 Cinderella" of the TB and Health Society, serving Wayne-Oakland counties.

Karen Kapelanski, 22, a bright, vivacious and thoughtful blonde who felt that her "whole world was shot" when she was hospitalized five years ago, was introduced at a luncheon sponsored by the Women's Committee of the TB and Health Society.

Miss Kapelanski will reign over the annual Cinderella Ball on Oct. 7 at the Pontchartrain Hotel. Held every year since 1950 (except 1957), the Cinderella Ball is a fund-raising and social event of the Women's Committee, which supports the work of the TB Society to combat tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

A positive tuberculin skin test in 1963 served as a family alert, but for Karen Kapelanski, the 1972 Cinderella, it did not arrest her natural optimism towards life as a freshman at St. Mary Academy in Monroe.

After all, the skin test had been routine, part of the regular school physical examination, and her condition only required periodic examinations.

Karen at 14 was caught up in her freshman year at the private Catholic school, selected because it was not too far from her Belleville home. Her family, which includes a younger brother, David, was close-knit and enjoyed small town living.

But the disease eventually required hospital treatment and caused a major disappointment in her life.

In the summer of 1966, Karen, with David and a group of students from his school, toured Europe, visiting London, Paris, Frankfurt, Munich, Venice, Rome and Florence. It was a fun trip, loaded with the opportunity to see the art treasures of the countries, a special interest of Karen's.

"Art is everywhere. It isn't just in the museums and public buildings; it's a way of life, particularly in Florence, which we visited before the devastating flood struck. Other tourists, too, seemed to really enjoy the beautiful art of these cities," Karen said.

"I guess I overdid it. I got caught up in the trip to such an extent, that I must have come home overtired, because my regular checkup in September was the worst news of my whole life. I had to go into the hospital!"

"If I had felt sick, it might have been different. But I always had good health, with very few colds, which might have indicated to me at least that I was susceptible to some kind of major disease. Really, I was never sick."

"The news that I had to go into the hospital made me very depressed. I felt that my whole world was shot. Our senior year at St. Mary Academy is full of traditions that you look forward to, and I realized that I was going to miss a lot of them. As a matter of fact, I missed almost everything, but I was able to make it to the Senior Prom and the Junior-Senior Banquet," Karen said.

She cried that day when she was told hospitalization was necessary. "Boy, did I cry."

Her spirits picked up, however, when she was admitted to Herman Kiefer Hospital in Detroit.

"It wasn't too bad in the hospital. My first roommate taught me how to crochet a rug. She made my first few weeks bearable."

"I was in the hospital for five months exactly; I remember the dates very clearly, Oct. 6, 1966 to Feb. 6, 1967. I wasn't able to return to classes at the Academy, because I had to take it easy for a while, but I continued with a tutor," Karen said.

No other members of her family contracted tuberculosis, and today Karen's experiences are memories because she has recovered requiring only an examination every six months.

Her brother, David, 21, is majoring in microbiology at the University of Michigan.

She lives with her family on 10 acres, where she has two horses, one is a yearling which she will train to show next year. An outdoors enthusiast, she likes to camp, canoe, sail and swim.

Following graduation, she attended Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn for two years, where she pursued an art major and was secretary of the Sailing Club. After working at a variety of jobs for several years, she decided to return to college, but this time she changed her major plans.

She enrolled at Eastern Michigan University in January of this year, with a major in occupational therapy.

"I wanted to go back to school and complete my education. I felt that occupational therapy would enable me to use some of my skills and interests in art, and to help others find a happy life, though handicapped or restricted in their activities," the 1972 Cinderella concluded.

OUTDOORS ENTHUSIAST — Karen brushes one of two horses she keeps on her family's 10-acre farm in Belleville. Besides training a yearling she hopes to show next year, Karen enjoys camping, canoeing, sailing and swimming.

Angry commissioners 'instruct' sheriff on duty

In an unusual action, angry Wayne County Commissioners have "instructed" the County Sheriff to take belts and shoelaces from prisoners before they are placed in cells at the county jail.

The action, taken at a Sept. 7 meeting of the Board of Commissioners, resulted from the suicide of Arnold Fraser, 33, who hanged himself with his belt in his jail cell Aug. 4. Fraser, a former mental patient, was awaiting trial on a murder charge.

It was the first time in memory that the county commissioners used the term "instruct" in a communication to a county elected official. The move was seen as a measure of the board's exasperation over problems at the jail.

Normally the board expresses its wishes to elected officials in the form of "requests" rather than instructions, because elective offices derive independent authority from the state constitution and statutes.

The strong wording was recommended by the board's Jail Liaison Committee after the committee met with Sheriff William Lucas, who is in charge of the jail, to discuss the suicide.

By a 19-1 vote, the commissioners agreed to a resolution that, in the words of one commissioner, "the sheriff be instructed that he shall not allow any person to be incarcerated in the Wayne County Jail while he has any contraband on his person or shoelaces or a belt in his possession." There was one abstention.

It was pointed out this is standard procedure in jails and other lockups throughout the country.

Commissioner Richard E. Manning, D-Redford, Jail

Liaison Committee member whose language was adopted by the board, said the directive was "a very unusual step that our committee felt it had to take."

At the Aug. 9 committee meeting, Manning said, the sheriff "advised that they often allowed people to be held in a jail cell with both their shoelaces and their belts."

A committee member, Paul Silver, D-Detroit, added:

"When a direct question was asked of the sheriff as to whether or not in the future he would see that no inmate went into a cell with his belt or his shoelaces, he refused to answer that."

Silver pointed out that in 1969 the board funded purchase of 4,300 beltless uniforms to provide three uniforms each for the 1,400 prisoners then in the jail. The jail population since has been reduced to less than 600.

In the current budget, funds were provided for 1,500 replacement uniforms and for containers for the personal clothing and possessions of inmates.

"The responsibility for the death of that individual, the suicide, definitely was not the fault of this board of commissioners," Silver declared.

Another Liaison Committee member, John J. McCann (D-Livonia), told the board the sheriff was "arrogant and totally uncooperative" at the committee meeting.

"It is shameful and disgraceful that this kind of resolution has to be passed by this board," he stated. "I don't think we should have to tell the sheriff how to do his job on a day-to-day basis, especially on such an elementary matter."

NEW PERSONALITY — Sun-shining flowers thrive in the shade of graceful parasols of wood, perfect for small gardens where large shade trees are impractical. Combined with planter boxes and a fence of vertical boards for a backdrop, these seven-to-nine-foot tall parasols lend new personality to a garden. The craftsman can build the parasol of 4-by-4-inch treated posts, 1-by-3-inch rafters and laths. Favored woods are Douglas fir, pine and cedar. Sink the posts below frost level and rip intersecting slots in the top to hold the slanting hip rafters. Stringers of the same 1-by-3-inch boards are nailed on under and about a foot from the tips of the four rafters, forming the square of the parasol. The laths are nailed to rafters and stringers, with a four-inch overhang. In a group of three, interest is added if one is smaller than the others.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG

Using only your muscles to open a stuck bureau drawer is an almost sure way of damaging either the contents or the drawer itself.

If the drawer opens easily to a certain point, then stops abruptly, it is likely that something inside the drawer is blocking further movement. A little patient poking around with something such as a wood ruler may dislodge the object. In some types of bureaus, removing the drawer above may aid in getting at the offending item. In an especially stubborn case, it may be necessary, if possible, to take off the back of the bureau for better maneuverability. The backs of many bureaus are held in place only with small screws or nails.

The most common trouble with bureau drawers is binding. The drawer moves back and forth with some jiggling, sticking here and there. This usually occurs during a period of high humidity, when moisture enters the wood and causes it to swell.

Binding can sometimes be cured by rubbing paraffin or some other lubricant (not soap) along the sliding parts. If lubrication fails to work, sand both the drawer edges and the slides, then reapply the lubricant. Sand lightly and take off only as much wood as necessary, otherwise the drawer may be too loose when the moisture leaves the wood. For this reason, sanding is preferred over planing, which may take off much of the wood.

If you find the drawer goes in part of the way, then it will go the rest of the way only if you life up the front of it, take out the drawer and push a few thumbtacks into the front part of the sliding area so that the drawer will ride over them.

When you can get the drawer open only part of the way and you are certain that no object inside the drawer is causing the trouble, it often can be loosened with the aid of heat. Set a lighted electric bulb inside the drawer so that it will produce sufficient shrinkage to allow the drawer to be pulled out. This must be done very carefully so as not to scorch or burn anything inside the drawer. Sometimes, if it is practical, the heat can be turned on in the room for a few hours, closing the door to the room. This will dry out the entire bureau and loosen the stuck drawers.

An examination of the drawer, after it has been removed, may disclose that the bottom of it has come loose. In repairing it, follow the original construction method regarding fastening. That is, use glue if glue was originally used; screws if screws were used; or both if that was the way it was done.

One reason bureau drawers bind under moisture conditions is that the sides and bottoms are often made of wood which is not sealed, thus permitting easy entry of water vapor. Future trouble can be prevented by sealing these sides and bottoms with a coat of shellac or something similar. The shellac, which should be diluted 50-50 with denatured alcohol, should be applied to the bare wood, so first remove all traces of paraffin or other lubricant, reapplying it after the sealer has dried thoroughly.

Q.—Our living room floor is finished with shellac. I wax it every few months. It is starting to look soiled and I would like to refinish it. How do I go about getting off the dirt before refinishing?

A.—You may have an easier job than you think—if the dirt has merely been ground into the wax. Try cleaning the floor with steel wool dipped in turpentine, allowing plenty of ventilation while you work. If the floor looks clean again, your job is over.

But if the dirt has been ground into the shellac, you'll have to wash the floor with a very mild alkaline soap solution, rinsing it with as little water as possible. Next, go over the floor with steel wool dipped in denatured alcohol. Rub very lightly to avoid cutting into the shellac. Should it be necessary to rub heavily to get out the dirt, then you have no choice but to go ahead with the refinishing.

When closing down backyard activities in fall, the family should be concerned with proper winter storage of outdoor equipment and comforts.

But usually everyone wants to get the job done quickly. Everything is brought in at the last moment and old and new accouterments are likely to be stored in haphazard fashion—piled in the corner of a cellar or utility room. Give yourself time to do the job properly, otherwise many of these things will have become warped, mildewed, rusted or frayed by the time they are needed again.

Chair and lounge cushions are expensive to replace, but if they are stored well, they may be useful again.

Plastic drycleaning bags or other large plastic film bags may be used for storage of cushions. If they are the long cushions that bend to form both backrest and seat two plastic bags may be necessary. After cushions are covered, they should be set off the ground in a dry spot in the basement or utility room. One family replaced cushions for several seasons before they decided they couldn't afford the cost. Now one set of carefully cared-for cushions looks almost new at the end of their fourth year.

Before storing, vinyl should be washed with soap and water and left out to dry. If there are spots on the reverse side of the cushion, scrub with soap and water or clean with a spot remover. Such stains attract mice who may wind up using the cushions as nesting grounds.

Garden tools can be a big item if they must be replaced. Dry them thoroughly before storing and wrap the metal ends in newspaper so sharp surfaces may be observed in a dark basement. Many people are injured when they step on a garden tool that has been carelessly stored. Small garden tools should be wiped clean with an oily cloth and wrapped in plastic or paper bags.

Wrought Iron Furniture: Rust-inhibiting paints might be used but no one wants to do a big job of enameling before a season of storage. If dollar is damp, wrap legs of furniture with newspaper. A glass topped table should be carefully covered with papers. It is a good place to store cushions which will protect the surface.

Pine furniture should be moved indoors, but redwood can remain outdoors if storage facilities are limited. In putting wood furniture away it is well to repair loose parts. The entire piece may warp if it is stored out of alignment. Redwood should be in good condition if it is to be left out. Reinsert screws with wood filler if necessary. If the connecting rod between chaise lounge wheels is broken as a result of being tossed around all season, an effective replacement may be made with an old mop handle cut to size. It may fit into the wheels snugly, but if it does not, it can be adjusted. If too small, small slivers of wood can be inserted into the wheels to fasten. If it is too large, the handle may be shaved to fit. Such a repair takes only a few minutes, but if you let it go until next season, the wheels may have fallen off.

Some barbecue grills can spend winters outdoors without showing wear, but some must be moved indoors. There are, of course, temporary grills which are really built for one season, and these are not worth storage space for the small investment involved and the appearance of the used article, even though some people might consider it a challenge. Before moving any grill indoors be sure it is free of grease, a fire hazard.

Outdoor picnic accessories—tablecloth, hurricane candles and so on—might be used indoors through fall. Some people do store all such things for another season, but usually it isn't worth the effort. Use up the paper plates, napkins and tablecloths. There will be new patterns and colors next year, and the chances are the things you've put away will not look fresh next season. In the meantime they will have taken up a lot of space.

Self-opening pliers a gripping idea

By AL CARRELLI

Dear Al: I decided self-opening pliers would be a help on a particular project and converted mine an old hacksaw blade. I ran the teeth of the blade across my grinding wheel to remove them, and then bent the blade into a U-shape to fit inside the "U" formed by the pliers handles. The blade is then cut off to fit and taped in place inside the handles. It gives good opening springing action, and yet doesn't interfere with the gripping.

candles, or your won't be able to light any.

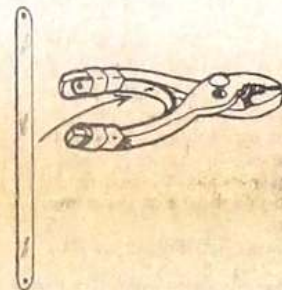

Dear Al: If you are ever away from a garage and find you have a leak in your gas tank or gas line, rub soap over the hole. Gasoline doesn't dissolve soap rapidly, and you'll be able to make it to a repairman.

B. L. A super hint — During cold weather, the condensation that takes place inside your gas tank can water down your fuel enough to cause you to have trouble getting the car started. Keeping the tank up toward the full mark leaves less room for air, and thus less room for moisture that can condense in the tank. If you have a choice of filling up the tank on the way home or waiting until morning, go ahead and do it tonight.

Dear Al: If you have a friend in the business machine repair business, ask him for his old tools when he gets ready to discard them. While they might not still be good for his work, they will be great additions to your workshop. He will have long skinny wrenches, long screw starters, tiny spring hooks and other things that you won't find in your hardware store. You'll find a use for all of them.

W.R.Y. You're right, and I even found a mail order outfit that sells them.

Al Carrelli welcomes all mail, especially tips from fellow Handymen which he can pass on to readers as space permits. While he cannot answer all individual letters, he will try to nail down your problem in his column whenever possible.

Dear Al: At one time in your column, you suggested putting candles in easy to find places in case of a power failure. That's a good idea. However, an even better idea is to also put candle holders along with the candles. Otherwise, you'll only be able to light as many candles as you can carry. Also, be sure you put matches with the Signs, signs, signs!

The primary may be over, but you'd never know it driving down the streets of some of the local communities. In Romulus, for example, this sampling of political signs was found within a few minutes by Enterprise-Roman photographer Lothar E. Konietzko.

In Romulus, unfortunately, such belated posting of campaign signs is not illegal, for the city has no ordinance covering such political signs. According to city officials, it is just expected that candidates will remove the signs within a "reasonable time."

It remains to be seen what constitutes a reasonable amount of time, since the Aug. 8 primary has been over for more than one month.

At left, Elmer Parraghi's sign, pushing the candidate from Sumpter for a state representative's post, is on a telephone pole at 11120 Sterling St., just south of Goddard. At right, a candidate for circuit judge, James E. McCarthy, still has a sign up at 36050 Goddard. The sign for Rep. Edward Mahalak is at Goddard and Moore, while Nancy Chaney, defeated hopeful for a state representative's post, still has one up at Whitehorn.

Building valuation drops in August

New building valuation in the City of Romulus dropped during the month of August, a monthly report issued by the building department disclosed.

The reported estimated construction cost of new building for August amounted to $387,297. This compares with a total of $756,486 in July.

The department issued 95 building permits in August, compared with 52 in July. Fees collected amounted to $2,457 as against $3,410 in July.

There were 60 residential building permits approved with an estimated construction cost of $120,029.

The total number of permits issued by the department was 279 and the total fees collected amounted to $6,206. This compares with 440 permits and fees of $8,014 in July.

The heating department issued 22 permits and collected $202 in fees. The electrical department issued 75 permits and took in $1,449 in fees. The plumbing department issued 62 permits and collected $1,117 in fees.

Nine permits were issued by the refrigeration department and fees of $86 were collected.

Some protection!

SEATTLE (AP)—Paul W. Heck thought he had adequate protection from burglars. His arsenal included 10 pistols, two carbine rifles, a sub-machine gun, 10,000 rounds of ammunition. He reported to police that burglars broke in and stole it all, taking five cameras as good measure.

Griffin Kelley

Senator Bob Griffin's six questions on busing, asked on July 26, 1972:

1. "Do you now support or repudiate the pro-busing policy statement which you signed last October?"

2. "Do you still favor one-way cross-district busing?"

3. "If you were a member of the Senate, would you, like Sen. McGovern, vote against a proposal to withdraw jurisdiction from the Federal courts to issue busing orders?"

4. "If you were in the Senate, would you, like Sen. McGovern, oppose President Nixon's proposed moratorium on busing?"

5. "Do you still believe that a Constitutional amendment to prohibit forced busing would be unconstitutional?"

6. "If you were in the Senate, would you, like Sen. McGovern, oppose my proposal for a Constitutional amendment to prohibit forced busing?"

Frank Kelley's answers on busing, as of September 11, 1972:

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. Yes

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

Tomorrow's forecast from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: The morning is good for you to make up your mind and to organize a campaign whereby you can gain the aims that mean the most to you. Afternoon and evening you are able to put such a course into active expression as well as let others know just what you do have in mind and to get their assistance quickly.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Attend to duties early so you can make new acquaintances later, look into new outlets, etc. Investigate new sources of information so you can extend your present views. Don't argue with mate in p.m.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can complete those talks with an associate early in the day so later you can delve right into the work necessary to further mutual aims. Try to be more understanding with mate. Be ahead of the game.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You can get all those duties handled most efficiently now if you really apply yourself. Get at them early and then you can join the world of action for good purposes. Fix your wardrobe to please own tastes.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Plan the recreation you want to have early. Then get right into important work with partners with enthusiasm. You can convince someone to do what you want in the morning, but others are not so amenable later.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Handle that situation at home very carefully in a.m. Then you can work on creative activity with bigwigs and make big headway. Get into basic matters that are important. Evening is fine for amusements.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Appointments and shopping should be scheduled early so that later you can be with kin to have more harmony at home. You had better plan early what you will say in that vital conversation you want to have with another.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have practical affairs to handle early so do not procrastinate any longer. Get routine work out of the way, too. Pay those important bills also. Don't forget shopping.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make that plan of action early so that you can then plow through it successfully and gain the benefits therefrom. Entertain those to whom you are obligated, and show appreciation for their relationship.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Out to some place where you can concentrate and plan the future more intelligently; then you can set the wheels in motion with good pals. Listen to advice from experts and follow it. Avoid one who argues too much.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 22) Know what your true aims are and who you want to see today, then carry through in a most positive fashion. Study that particular aim well before you take any action on it. Evening is fine for happiness with mate.

Aquarius (Jan. 23 to Feb. 19) You are under some pressure now that requires thought and right action immediately. Then get out to the activities that interest you most. A higher-up can give fine aid in a.m., provided you contact early.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are highly inspired now on how to gain your fondest aspirations, but be sure to contact bigwig for his okay. A study of facts at hand can give you the knowledge you seek. Then you can expand as you wish.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those charming and logical young people who is forever making plans and carrying them through to gain what is most important. Upon reaching maturity your son or daughter will want to express self in a most ideal and articulate way, so it is vital for you to give the finest education you can afford. There can be fame in this chart, provided the ethical and spiritual training necessary is not neglected.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for October is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast (The Daily Eagle), Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

Nader, music, women's rights

Schoolcraft series has variety

The fall celebrity series at Schoolcraft College offers fare for a variety of entertainment tastes, including Ralph Nader, the Don Ellis Orchestra, Barbara Seaman and Jeremiah Collins.

First up on Sept. 21, Nader will take a look at party platforms for the upcoming presidential election, and what they hold for consumers. He is speaking at 8 p.m. in Schoolcraft's main gymnasium.

On Oct. 7, the series shifts to Clarenceville's Schmidt Auditorium where the popular Don Ellis Orchestra will perform at 7:30 p.m. A second show has tentatively been set for 10:30 p.m. if ticket demands warrant.

Women's rights will be in the spotlight on Oct. 24 when Barbara Seaman, author of "Free and Female," visits the campus. Her earlier book, "The Doctor's Case Against the Pill," alerted the nation to the dangers of the contraceptive pill. She will speak in the Waterman Campus Center at 8 p.m.

"JFK," a critically acclaimed dramatic portrait of John F. Kennedy, will be presented in Garden City on Nov. 6. An original, one-man drama starring Jeremiah Collins, it is scheduled for an 8 p.m. curtain in the O'Leary Performing Arts Center.

The celebrity series is sponsored by Schoolcraft's Cultural and Public Affairs Committee. General admission tickets range from $2 and $3.50 for the various presentations, and are on sale in the Administration Building on campus. They may also be ordered by mail and, when available, will be sold at the door for each performance.

Advertisements prior to each scheduled performance will have full price and ticket ordering details. For general information, call the community services office at 591-6400.

Top feminist leaders slated

Women have top billing in the special "Celebration" show scheduled Sunday at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

The principal speakers, singers and actors appearing in the full-evening entertainment special starting at 8 p.m. include some of the biggest names in the feminist movement. The featured speakers include Gloria Steinem, Mario Thomas and Candice Bergen of film-TV fame, and MS magazine writer Margaret Sloan.

Musical headliners are Jennifer, a top artist in the pop music recording scene, and composer-singer Roberta Kosse. Theater presentations at "Celebration" also spotlight feminist achievement in the arts. The Women's Theater Group of Washington, D.C., will present New York playwright Myrna Lamb's play "What Have You Done For Me Lately?" And "The Women's Play" will be performed by the Street Corner Society, an East Lansing street theater group.

"Celebration" is sponsored by the Ann Arbor-U of M Chapter of ZPG.

Arab festival set for Detroit

The ethnic festival site at the Cobo Hall riverfront will be transformed into a replica of an Arab village this weekend.

Colorful tents and booths will entice festival-goers to sample Middle Eastern food and native art and handicrafts from the Arab nations.

The Arab World festival is next to the last festival of the Concert season to open

The concert season at Eastern Michigan University begins with three September programs.

A piano-violin sonata program performed by pianist Dady Mehta and violinist Alfio Pignotti opens the season next Monday. Mozart's "Sonata in B Flat," Brahms' D minor sonata and a work by Copland will be presented. Both artists are members of the EMU music faculty.

Joseph Gurt, also an Eastern music faculty member, will present a recital of piano selections by Haydn, Ives, Bach and Schumann on Sept. 25.

The first of eight scheduled performances by the EMU-Civic Symphony Orchestra, Edward Szabo, director, will feature the world premiere of Daniel Eller's "Symphony No. 1."

DOG WEEK NEARS — Sept. 24-30 is Rover's official week to howl. The 45th annual tribute to man's best friend — National Dog Week — will be celebrated with unleashed enthusiasm. The real purpose behind all the doggy hoopla is expressed in the week's slogan: "Deserve to be your dog's best friend." Your dog may not have a pet bird, but he deserves an extra pat on the head during the week-long observance.

Winter Sports Show at Cobo this weekend

The 1973 Greater Michigan Snowmobile and Winter Sports Show — the nation's largest and first of the season — opens for a three-day run at Detroit's Cobo Hall Friday.

More than 40 manufacturers and distributors of snowmobiles and winter sports equipment are expected to exhibit their products in the association's fifth annual show. Exhibits will occupy 100,000 square feet of Cobo Hall.

Hours of the show will be noon to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and noon to 10 p.m. Sunday.

This will be the association's first show in Cobo Hall. "We outgrew Detroit's West Eight Mile Armory," said Larry Johnson, President of the Michigan Marine and Local artists display works

Two area artists will be displaying their works at the annual Lafayette Park Art Fair this weekend in downtown Detroit.

Carol Kery, 34727 Spring Valley Dr., Westland, and Ted M. Johnson, 19287 Inkster Rd., Romulus, have entered their creations in the fair to be held at East Lafayette and Orleans.

Ms. Kery's works are oil on canvas and latex on plexiglass, while Johnson's are linocut prints.

They are among the 100 Michigan artists represented at the two-day outdoor fair, which ranks as one of Detroit's major art events. Displays will include paintings, pottery, ceramics, glassware, weaving, jewelry, silk-screen prints and leather work.

Many of the artists will conduct daily demonstrations of their skills.

One feature of the fair is an auction of artists' works to be held at 3 p.m. on Saturday and 2 p.m. on Sunday.

The fair is open from 10 a.m. until dusk Saturday and Sunday.

TWO-PLUS-TWO, PLUS the two of US, at Vargo's... makes for an evening of "PLUS" FUN... listening and dancing to the "Two Plus Two", featuring Vocalist Ronnie Shandor, who sings everything (in a voice that could repeat the Menu and make it sound like a Vegas hit!)... Louie Marr at the Piano (this Man has GOT to have at least 16 fingers, because he obviously is covering TWO octaves at a time!)... Billy Kallio, whose rhythmic Drum moves the room... and "ANDY" & his Bass Gear! Four-star Dance Music... aided and abetted (listen to the old Detective!) by a Menu that IS a Vegas Hit! The NEW Menu (Who sed they couldn't top the old Menu?) includes such goodies as Vargo's Surf 'n Turf, where the Diner decides whether to enjoy Filet OR N.Y. Strip, with Soft Shell Crabs, Lobster Tail, or crabby Alaskan King. This is a Gourmet choice, which is just another way to say VARGO'S, at 3025 W. Six Mile Rd., in Livonia, and what's good for the two of US, is gonna be GREAT there, for the two of YOU!

WHOEVER SAID "A smile is a curve to set things straight", MUST have been daydreaming about sweet 'n lovely Gwen Scott, whose radiant smile greets you at EDDIE SCHAVE'S BISTRO BOURBON (3745 S. Telegraph, between Michigan & Van Born, in Dearborn). Gwen "Hostess-ed" for Eddie at BOURBON ST. for a handfulla years; just "helped" with the Bistro Bourbon opening... and it became HER room. Nor does her presence alone grace the atmosphere. This is true New Orleans from the velvet ceilings and ornate chandeliers, reflected in mahogany walls, sinking into pillows of red carpeting, to the elaborate Menu... and Milady TISH (w-e-r-y) GOODE, who does magic things at the keyboard from 8:30 p.m. til 1:30 a.m., when she takes over from "STINUS", whose music is heard from 1 til 7:30 p.m., and WHAT to tell you becomes a million words... to divide into a thousand tales. TISH, at the piano, is momentarily melancholy; moody... suddenly swinging, vibrating... so full of sound that she stands up and SHOUTS! She moves Mercurially from The Sound of love to marimba... to "Sunday Rock" so easily, one knows why there is no dancing: It takes all your willpower to stop clapping and just listen to the girl! And, in the company of handsome Curt Vrindlay and Gwen Scott we enjoyed a dinner which in itself MUST be the subject of another Column, ONLY about The Food, and two cooks named "Cochise" because this food deserves its own setting. As we smooched pretty Gwen goodnight and shook the hand of Maitre de Bob Hall again, we knew we could n-e-v-e-r say enough! Visit the Bistro... and you'll know, too.

SALUTE AMIGOS! Just 3 leetle toasts, to those of us who beat the crowds and show up at EL NIBBLE NOOK (29473 Grand River, in Farmington) on Monday through Thursday. Uno: It's positively jammed to the walls on Weekends. Dos: There's a strutting Guitarist named ANTONIO who plays from 7 til 10 p.m. on weekdays... and Flamenco IS my favorite sound. Tres: when you come to a place as totally different as EL NIBBLE NOOK, you need time and room to swing a Salty Dog... and there's a bit more room those days. Oh, Senor... you're kidding! You NEVER tasted a Salty Doggie? It's a "Cocle'l", Bebe! It's Vodka and Grapefruit Juice in a salt-rimmed glass. Or there's Pina Cololate... which is Rum, Pineapple Juice, Orange Juice & Coconut! And suddenly you're in the mood for... would you believe, a Taco TITANICO?? (E's so big, the Senorita has to help you bite it!) Or howabout a "Pasa Sandwich"? Or Camarones Veracruzanas... loaded with fresh Shrimp! We call this place "EL BIG D" because it's B-I-G on Different, Delicious, and Dee-lightful!

AT THE CARRIAGE HILL, people are STILL talking about the Carriage Hill Golf Classic... the Trophies and Prizes... the SCORES! Me, I've been sayin' that you play a winning game when you take that trip up to the CARRIAGE HILL, at 27200 Cherry Hill (at Inkster), in Dearborn Heights! Because this is an Entertainment "Classic" that walks away with ALL the prizes! It's the practiced wrist action of the Music Man, when the DON MCKENZIE COMBO scores with Dancers who would dream-bee. The Food is "dreamy" too. Your Dinner will include a cup of French Onion Soup or du Jour, Tossed Salad, however you decide to construct it, Baked Idaho or French Fried Potatoes, and a choice of "additional" beverages, since they know you have a special taste regarding the "before and after" verdat? Whatever your preference, by the way, remember your Cocktail's on me if you're the 1st to recognize me! (And I do hangaround the Carriage Hill a bit!)

WE ARE PROUD to number among our good friends a presiding Official who, just for this one column, prefers to remain anonymous. For when his wife, who interprets the law at HOME, told him she was calling for "Ah Song"... he stood up and rendered an immediate ditty! Actually, Mrs. "Judge" was thinking of "HI LOY"... because as a Judge of Culinary Achievement, she had found these people without fault in preparing the VERY finest of exotic treats... and had frequently subpoenaed Hizzoner to pick up a complete Dinner there, to "serve" the entire Family! HI LOY RESTAURANT being located at 29195 Plymouth Rd., just E. of Middlebelt, it is adjudged extremely simple to comply with Culinary "Orders" in fact, if one calls 425-8020, are in the making when you arrive. Eat there... carry Out... I hereby sentence you to a lifetime of enjoyment, known by such "aliases" as Sweet & Sour Pork, Cantonese Lobster Tail, Steak Kow and many, MANY more... at HI LOY!

TO WELD BEING to unite... join firmly... and even to fuse together, it was no surprise to learn that the American Welding Society would select VLADIMIR'S, at 28125 Grand River (at Midbelt), in Farmington to "join firmly" in a Business Meeting and unite with the equally great Society... of people who choose Vladimir's for every occasion calling for complete Catering and Party Services. Another wonderful Union will be Sharon Firies Wedding Day. When Sharon becomes Mrs. John Prevaille this weekend, a Wedding Breakfast at Vladimir's for immediate family (a mere 100 folks!) will follow. Then Mr. and Mrs. Prevaille, will return shortly to Mom & Dad Firie's for the last time... before their evening Wedding Reception at Vladimir's, this time for 400 people. And while Fr. Raymond at St. Scholastica, who will marry them, resembles Tom Jones... and handsome Walter Sarkovich, who is "Vladi", sets hearts to pattering... "Sharon", says Mom, "is walking around seeing Stars!" This we know: a Wedding Day at Vladimir's... will surely fulfill her every starry dream. Good Luck, Prevaille's!

Hospital authority names personnel director

Leo J. Bonamy, 48, has been appointed to the recently created position of director of personnel of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA).

"This appointment fills a major void in our administrative team which we have felt for some time demanded a man with the extensive experience in the personnel and industrial relations field that Mr. Bonamy brings to our organization," said Dr. Karl S. Klicka, executive director of the authority.

"PCHA now has a work force of some 2,700 employees and Mr. Bonamy's responsibilities will involve the development of uniform personnel policies having authority-wide application," added Dr. Klicka.

"He will also assist each of the four PCHA hospital units in preparing and carrying out good programs and practices in selection, recruiting, orientation, training, appraisal, management development, motivation and career mobility plans."

Bonamy, who since 1966 has served as industrial relations manager of the Mechanical Handling Systems Division of American Chain and Cable Co. in Warren, has had extensive experience in the development, implementation and administration of all phases of industrial relations work. This includes the establishment of wage and salary programs, contract negotiations, grievance procedures and arbitration, management appraisal and employee evaluation programs, pension and group insurance planning.

Prior to going with American Chain and Cable, Bonamy was for 13 years responsible for personnel activities of the engineering, scientific and research development center (780 employees) of the Continental Aviation and Engineering Corp. in Detroit.

From 1943 to 1945 he served as a glider specialist with the U.S. Air Force.

His spare time is devoted to Boy Scout activities where he has served as district commissioner for 10 years. He is also active in the Little League baseball program in his community.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonamy have six children and reside at 1168 Kensington Rd., Grosse Pointe Park.

Traffic deaths lower

Michigan traffic accidents in August claimed 191 lives, which was 36 or about 15 per cent less than the 227 recorded in August last year, the State Police traffic division reported.

The toll was 30 less than the average of 221 for the month in the last five years (1967-71). High for August was 254 in 1969, while the low was 67 in wartime 1943.

August was the fourth month this year to show a decrease compared with corresponding months in 1971. Decreases were also recorded for March, June and July.

The accumulated deaths for the first eight months this year total 1,441, which was 33 or about two per cent more than the 1,408 in the comparable period last year.

Reports of delayed deaths will increase somewhat the counts for August and for the accumulated period.

Hardy makes debut against Inkster

Preps launch grid campaign Friday

BILL HARDY
Making his debut

The 1972 high school football season gets underway for most area teams Friday with nonleague confrontations heading the bill.

With the exception of New Boston Huron, all other local teams will be able to test their strengths — and weaknesses — against non-conference rivals.

Belleville will run up against a strong Dearborn Heights Robichaud aggregation while Romulus will meet Inkster. Huron clashes with conference adversary Grosse Ile.

The Belleville-Robichaud duel, scheduled for Friday night 8 p.m. at Belleville, also features the second meeting between Belleville High head coach Keith Emerson and his ex-school team. Emerson was the former athletic director-football coach at the Dearborn Heights high school before coming to Belleville.

In their first encounter Robichaud jolted Emerson's Tigers 14-13 two years ago. And neither has forgotten about that upset.

"We have more depth on this team than last year's," said Emerson, "with 11 returning lettermen, this could be an outstanding year for us, but we also must play more consistent than we have in the previous years."

Robichaud Coach Bob

Enterprise-Roman Sports

Wednesday, September 13, 1972

Yauck, in his third year as head coach, says "I always respect Belleville grid teams. We know they have some real fine players over there."

"And we also know they'll be up for us because of that victory two years ago," Yauck said.

Belleville could field one of its most dazzling backfields in recent years if All-Area halfback Mike Dansard, Stan Mars, Bruce Ford and Ralph Cohen come through. The Tiger line also is spotted with experience as tackle John Alford, end Terry Pate are "quality players".

Robichaud however has plenty of speed in its backfield. Two halfbacks, Andre Jacobs and Wesley Jones, were among the best sprinters in the state last year, covering the 100-yard dash under 10 seconds.

The Bulldogs also have a line made up of over 200-pounders that even a college coach could envy.

Meanwhile, Bill Hardy is preparing to make his head coaching debut against a graduation-riddled, but capable, Inkster High team.

Hardy, an assistant coach for three years under George Pratt, moved up to the top job during the summer.

The former University of Michigan griddier is optimistic about his chances of fielding a winner.

Though playing an independent schedule, Romulus is shooting high — for an undefeated season.

"We can win because we have the talent on this team," said Hardy.

Offensively, Virgil Smith came through commendably last year. He led the Eagles to a winning season in the '71 campaign and his quarterbacking experience will play a vital part in Hardy's grid chess game this season. However, Smith doesn't have All-Area, All-Metro end, Ken McMann around to aim for. McMann, after a brilliant prep career, has graduated.

But held over are key personnel who can make Hardy's season an auspicious one. Marvin Williams, one of those ho-jovers, is a 5-foot-11, 187-pound rugged senior who led the Eagles in tackles last year, piling up more than 100 solos. Williams backed up the line last year and there is no reason why he won't be equally effective this year.

Daryl Gooden, a 6-foot-1, 200-plus lineman will return to his tackle spot and his strength plus experience could make him the best in any man's league.

The lack of a league, thus the absence of a battle for a championship, may take away some of the polish, according to Hardy.

"I believe that if we were playing for a league championship there would be even more incentive. However, I feel that playing for undefeated is as equal an incentive as anything."

Inkster, which lost its veteran coach Sylvester Mosley in mid-season last year because of a controversy, has named interim coach Arnie James to the head coaching job.

Arnie took over the Vikings with three games to go in 1971 and won one and lost two.

Mosley quit after he accused the school administration of failing to give his team support. He said he resigned in mid-season so that attention would be drawn to the plight of his team.

James is a former All-State end from Muskogee High School in Oklahoma who has several outstanding players returning to the lineup "but no depth."

"My boys tell me we're going to go undefeated," he said. "but I have to be realistic. With the talent and manpower I have I will be happy if we break even for the season."

Watch for running back Cornelius James, Barney Drew, Edward Champman, Joseph Reece and quarterback Darryl Williams in the Vikings' offensive backfield, while other lettermen include Darryl Lynem, Gary Martin, Keith Arnold, Richard Terrell, Craig Erquhart.

"I know Romulus is loaded this year," said James, "but I think they'll know they were in a game when we get through."

Tiger harriers win for first year coach

Belleville High School appears to be on its way to another successful cross country season.

The Tigers opened the 1972 season on a triumphant note last week when they downed non-league rival Ypsilanti, 17-42.

The win was Belleville's

20th in a row in dual meet competition and made first year coach Bob Boudreau's debut a successful one.

Senior John Cicotte and sophomore Randy Bicket were instrumental in providing Boudreau with a victory in his first meet.

Cicotte finished first with a time of 17:08 on the three-mile Ypsilanti course while Block was right behind with a 17:08.5 clocking.

Seniors Mark Davis and Chris Palnau finished third and fourth, respectively while soph Tom Kof was seventh. Boudreau was pleased with the performance turned in by his runners.

"Everyone ran well for the opening meet of the season," said the Belleville mentor. "They all worked hard in practice and it paid off with a good showing in our first meet. I think that we're going to have a successful season."

Belleville had a tremendous season in 1971 as it captured the Suburban Eight and regional championships under the coaching of Ken Head.

Head is now the track and cross country coach at Washtenaw Community College.

Boudreau was a teammate of Head's at Eastern Michigan University, where both men were star runners.

The team which Boudreau has inherited will be without four of the runners who helped Belleville to its 10-0 dual meet record in 1971.

Jon Cross, Phil Combs, Bruce Clark, and Gary Refitt have all graduated.

Thus, the Tigers have some rebuilding to do, but they do have enough returning talent to make them a favorite in the Suburban Eight.

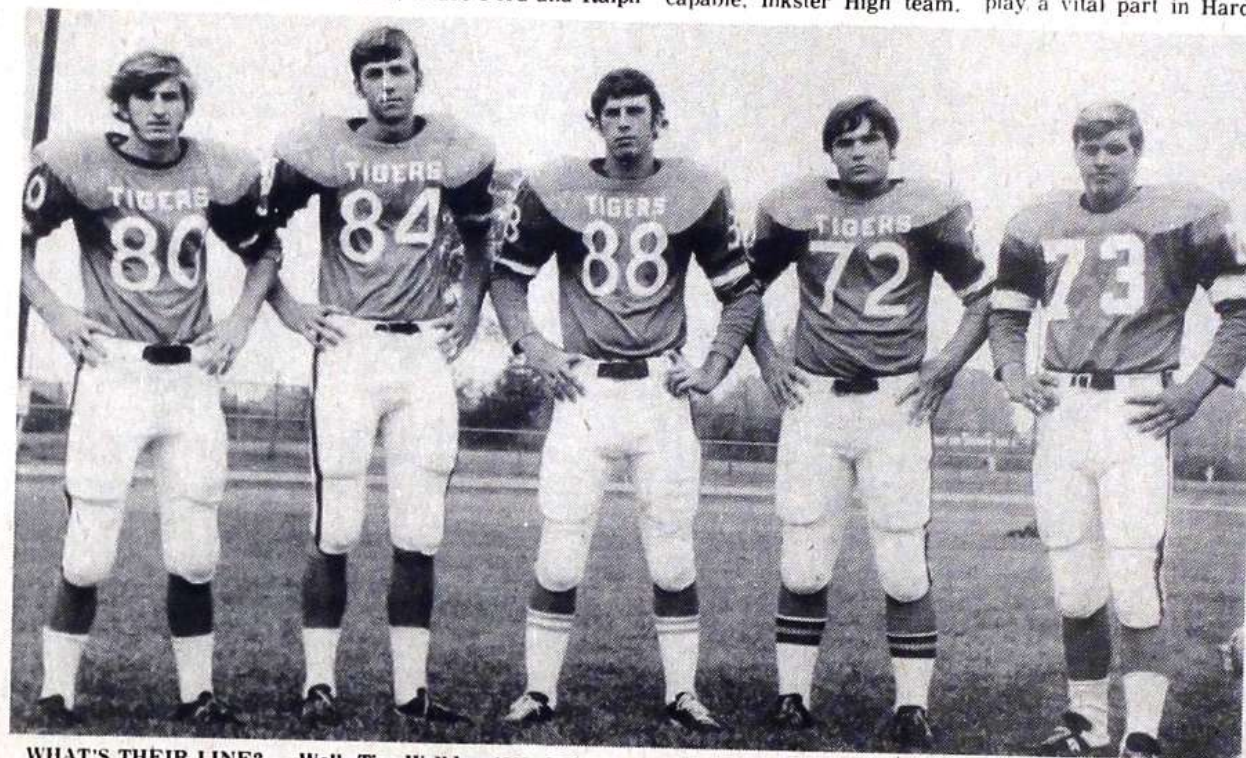

Juniors, Dan Tishma and Jeff Gale, and sophomores Dave Palnau and Tim O'Harris are the other top Tiger runners.

Redford Union and Dearborn should be Belleville's top challengers.

The Tigers travelled to Riverview for a double dual meet with the host team and Wyandotte yesterday and they'll visit Redford Union tomorrow.

Boudreau's team will open its home schedule next Thursday when it hosts Trenton at 4 p.m. at Lower Huron Metro Park.

Wayne State University's football teams have gained more yards running than passing in all but two — 1962 and 1966 — of the last 25 seasons, dating back to 1947.

WHAT'S THEIR LINE? — Well, Tim Wellday (80), Mike Beek (84), Terry Pate (88), John Alford (72) and Ron Blumh (73) will be key figures on the Belleville line this season. Belleville, with a mixture of experience and young players, can be strong title contenders in the Suburban 8 Conference if the Tigers can come up with some sort of "consistency" according to third-year coach Keith Emerson.

Huron meets Grosse Ile

When you have 22 men out for a football team you can't afford injuries.

And you can't afford many other things: like sticking your neck out and saying you'll repeat a 6-3 won-lost ratio that the team posted in its previous year.

So first year New Boston Huron head football coach Jim Rossow is playing it safe these days. He's not going to stir up title dreams, but he also isn't saying his team is going to lie down and play dead for anyone either.

"We don't have the depth and injuries could be fatal for us," said Rossow who'll take his team up against Grosse Ile Friday for their first league confrontation. "What we have on this team appears pretty good, but we just don't have enough manpower."

Rossow admits he has a pretty good quarterback in Mario Gracia, a versatile athlete who also has earned stripes in basketball and baseball. Gracia's leadership, passing and running acuity may make the difference in the Chiefs' season.

Also held over from last year's squad is Jamie Hinojosa, a three-sports athlete who has the swiftness and keen sense of direction to find the holes. Hinojosa will also handle one of the linebacker's berths and the 6-1, 190-pound senior will co-captain the Chiefs along with Gracia.

Rossow received unexpected but welcomed help from one of the rivals in the league when Monroe Catholic Central griddier, Bill Parent, moved into the Huron school district. The 5-10, 175-pound junior should give the Chiefs a needed boost on the offensive line. He lettered last year as a guard at MCC.

Monroe, along with Tecumseh, the defending champ, figure to be the top candidates for the league championship.

Dan Berry and Bill Grover have taken up the tackle slots where they were letterwinners last year. Grover, a 5-11, 230-pound sophomore and Berry, a 5-10, 175-pound senior could be the best in the conference this season.

Also back from last year's squad is Keith Thompson, a 5-10, 160-pound senior who is a solid performer at center and could be shifted to guard if needed.

Then, Dana Kemp, also a three-sports letterman, and Jeff Hessler, a 5-10, 150-pound junior, have the credentials to start at ends.

Malloy Connley, who'll work both ways as a halfback, and Tim Hinojosa, a junior, who'll be used as a backup quarterback, round out the returning lettermen.

Watch for running back Cornelius James, Barney Drew, Edward Champman, Joseph Reece and quarterback Darryl Williams in the Vikings' offensive backfield, while other lettermen include Darryl Lynem, Gary Martin, Keith Arnold, Richard Terrell, Craig Erquhart.

"I know Romulus is loaded this year," said James, "but I think they'll know they were in a game when we get through."

Swimming club elects new slate of officers

The Tiger Swim Club of Belleville held its annual club election and a new slate of officers were selected to serve for the 1972-73 season.

Replacing Bud Susterka as president of the club is James A. Kause. The new vice-president of the club is Bruce Bearance; secretary is Charles Renton; treasurer, Gerald McKelvey and recording secretary, Mrs. James Kause.

Two new trustees will be named later.

Susterka, along with Doug Liedel, out-going treasurer, and Ainsley Mills, former vice-president of the club, have spent many hours to make the club a success. The club was founded two years ago.

Coaching the swimmers are Bob Renton while Frank Musser is the diving coach.

Has MHSAA legalized grid cheating?

Bob Draheim, the articulate head football coach at Garden City West High School, isn't known for "holding back the punches."

And that's one reason he's "good copy."

"Ie slapped out at the Michigan High School Athletic Association's approval to allow the state's high school football coaches to stage non-contact drills during the summer."

In bygone years some coaches would take their teams into the wilderness during the summer months and sort of cheat — that is practice with the boys so that the team would be ahead.

Sometimes the cheaters were caught and rightfully punished. However, many of them got away with it.

Draheim feels that "the MHSAA has abrogated its authority."

"By this recent action, allowing the coaches and teams to practice during the summer, the MHSAA in reality has legalized the cheating that was going on."

"That's all there is to it," said Draheim.

Draheim went on to say that he felt that, in high school, sports aren't supposed to be the player's entire life.

"I honestly believe that the kids should play something else other than football in the summer," said Draheim, "but it's impossible to do this now. Now, in order to keep pace we will have to stage practices all summer."

Draheim also took a slap at the new MHSAA eligibility ruling that allows students to make up their academic deficiencies during summer school, a practice which was previously impossible.

"They let the poor students in college take Mickey Mouse courses during summer so that they'll be eligible for the season," said Draheim, "but high school students should be made to realize the importance of education. And what we are doing is placing athletics over education on the high school level which is preposterous."

Evidently Draheim's belief in the importance of education has also rubbed off on his players. Eighteen of the 20 seniors on last year's football team are enrolled in a college.

In previous years we have shied away from politics in this column because we believe that sports and politics don't mix. But how can one be silent about the senseless killings in Munich of eleven Israelis whose only "crime" apparently was to be in their rooms when a group of Arab "commandos" attacked the Olympic Village.

Sports, one means that brings the world community together, must not be allowed to go down the vortex of world politics. The sports arena must not become a political battle ground for any group or race.

It is disgusting to hear about one man taking the life of another for any reason, or how utterly repulsive it is to read about the killings of the innocent athletes, by-standers in a game of deadly chess played by their nations.

We are sure the Arab world will join the entire civilized world in condemning those responsible for the ruthless murders.

You don't expect Johnny Wilson, the reigning Detroit Red Wings' coach, to pop up in the area especially since he and his minions are due in Port Huron on Thursday.

Wilson was around town last week and took off from his busy schedule to put the Westland pucksters through a couple of rugged practice sessions at the Sportsland Arena.

He wasn't as strict as the Russians are, the boys say. But they loved every minute of it.

"You should have seen the boys," said Gloria Bateman, a member of the WHA whose juvenile division was the recipient of the benefit of Wilson's years of experience. "They couldn't believe it was really him. And the boys practiced as if ice was going out of style."

On hand to watch Wilson put the boys through the loop were many coaches and parents from Westland and the area. Wilson's visit was arranged by Ron Bateman, coach of the WYA juvenile team.

"I felt Wilson really whipped the boys into good shape and has given our team a very good start for the season," said Bateman. "I'm sure the boys gained plenty from this visit and I know some of the coaches said they picked up a few pointers from the drills Wilson conducted.

"Our coaches were enthused and also very grateful to Wilson for taking time off from his busy schedule to help us out here in Westland," said Bateman.

One of the coaches got involved in a discussion about the Soviet Union and Team Canada hockey series which is presently dominated by the Reds, 2-1-1.

"It just goes to show that when you have individuals - no matter how good - playing against a well-drilled team, the team has the edge," said the coach who said he preferred not to be identified.

"I hope the next time they set up anything like this that they would give one of the teams in the National Hockey League - any one - a chance to play instead of gathering an All-Star team together whose players haven't played with one another.

"When you have a team playing together, each player knows his teammate. Team Canada proved that outstanding individuals are not necessarily the best composite for an outstanding team."

Meanwhile, John Glenn cross country Coach Jerry Sukaitis informs us he'll be only too happy to stage the 1972 All-Area Cross Country Invitational which is sponsored by The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers.

The meet corresponds to the All-Area Track competition. The top 10 runners are designated as All-Area. Last year was the first time we decided to let the harriers battle it out for the honorary title instead of having the coaches select the best.

Of course, there also will be medals for the winners.

And, with football just around the corner, I have decided to take a couple of days off before the fans get me in a corner.

So I'll be back Friday night for the kick off and hope to see you then.

Gridders sparkle on college team

Where have the ex-prep football stars from the area gone?

Well, you'll find them as close by as Eastern Michigan University and the University of Michigan and at far off places as the University of Wyoming this season.

Kirk Lewis, the only former prep griddier from this area ever to be named to All-American and All-State teams, is looking good as a freshman at the University of Michigan.

Lewis, who stands 6-foot-4 and weighs 235-pounds, played a tight end and doubles as end on defense for the Wolverines. He helped Garden City West to its first Tri-River Conference football championship and he is considered one of the best freshman prospects on the Wolverine roster.

Lewis' former teammates, John Murray, Randy Smith, John Benn, Ken Stupryra and John Maggioncalda also will be wearing college uniforms this season.

In fact, of Coach Bob Draheim's 22 seniors of a year ago, 19 have made it to college.

Murray is a split end and defensive back at EMU while Smith is a Wayne State University freshman griddier. Stupryra is at Michigan Tech and the GC West halfback is trying to make it as a defensive halfback as a sophomore.

Maggioncalda, who's 210-pounds, has been moved from the middle linebacker slot to a defensive tackle at Brown University where former St. Mary's of Wayne star, Dan Conterence, quarterbacked WSU last year and will be back to handle those chores again for rookie coach Dave Hoover.

Another Rocket griddier dotting WSU's roster is Dave Barrows, who won a regular Cesarz has also earned himself a starting berth as a linebacker.

St. Mary's, which closed its high school doors a year ago because of financial difficulties, also can boast of developing Ferris State College's present captain, Dave Gagnon, who won all sorts of honors as a member of former coach Manny Lentine's Blue Knights.

Steve Curtis, also a St. Mary's alumnus, is a member of the Wayne State University squad this year. Also at WSU is John Lee, who earned All-Area recognition last year as a member of John Glenn's aggregation. Lee is eyeing a defensive halfback slot with the Tartars.

Rod Shafer, a stellar QB at Garden City East and Gary Humphrey's 1970 Mid-Wayne guard slot for himself last year.

Inkster's durable Pasco Yearby will co-captain the 1972 Wayne State grid team. Martin Banks, an outstanding wrestler-griddier from the Westland high school, is a tackle at the University of Pennsylvania while his former teammate, Bill DeVier, is on the freshman team at EMU.

Inkster also has two of its former sons at Mississippi State Valley College. They're Walter Smith, a sophomore tackle, and Terry Hister, also a tackle. Ex-Viking Carl Sanders is tackle at the University of Cincinnati.

Dearborn Heights Robichaud is also represented on the collegiate gridiron with former All-Area lineman, Tim Anderson, who is attending Tuskegee Institute in Tuskegee, Alabama.

Though he missed most of his senior football season after being injured in the first game, Richard L. Stevens proved he had shown enough talent and potential as a quarterback to earn a scholarship to the University of Wyoming. Rick will be a freshman this year at U-of-W.

Two of Livonia Churchill's former stars, Jerry Oljace and Evan Smith are out for starting assignments at Alma College. Oljace is a running back while Smith played fullback for Coach Ken Kaestner's Chargers last year.

Greg Smith, also a Churchill alumnus, is at Ferris where he is battling for a linebacker's job, and former teammate Keith Armstrong is a split end at Western Michigan University.

Keith Simons, who set a national wrestling record for successive pins last year at Belleville, headed for the University of Minnesota where he hopes to make it as a tackle while Tony Ogletree, plagued with a knee injury in his senior year, also is out for the Minnesota freshman team as a fullback-safety.

Romulus' contribution to the collegiate grid scene includes Ken McMann, an All-Metro, All-Area end and Robin Block, TIGER POWER — Led by All-Area candidate Mike Dansard (38), Belleville has a veteran look about its backfield. Coach Keith Emerson has returning, along with Dansard, Stan Mars (32), Bruce Ford (42) and Ralph Cohen (35). The Tigers will get their first test of the '72 campaign Friday night at home when they host a strong Dearborn Heights Robichaud aggregation in a nonleaguer.

who will be at Michigan Tech. George Bednerek, the former East High All-Area griddier, made a contribution to the EMU Pioneer Bowl team by serving as backup tackle for both defensive line positions, a job he figures to assume again this season. Teammate George Osterhout, who was graduated from John Glenn, is a 5-11, 180-pound sophomore who was listed as a safety on the Huron depth charts at the end of the spring practice and should get to see plenty of action this season.

Livonia Franklin has the largest contingent on the college scene, counting 14 former players including Mike Jinnett, who is a Navy linebacker. Mike's former teammates are scattered across the state and nation.

Duck hunters to hold tourney

The 25th Annual Michigan Duck Hunters Tournament, and Midwest Decoy Contest, the largest spectator participation form of entertainment, will be held Sunday, Sept. 17 starting at 9:30 a.m.

The Trenton and Gasco Sportsmans Clubs are co-sponsors.

The tournament is in cooperation with the Department of Natural Resources, with James Foote, game biologist as events coordinator, chairman.

The tournament will be held at the Pointe Mouillee State Game Area, in East Rockwood, in Wayne County. The tournament presents all phases and skills of all waterfowlers of the Midwest and Canada. The tourney chairman is Hy Dahlka from Gibraltar, a veteran waterfowler and sportsman who started this memorable event 25 years ago.

The duck calling judges are as follows: Art Beauchamp, World Champion duck caller, James Frankowski, duck calling champion from Toledo, Ohio, Marv Johnson, St. Charles, Shiawassee State Game Area, and George Kadar, from East Rockwood, three times Midwest duck calling champion, retired.

Trap-shooting events start at 10 a.m. and will be held throughout the day. Added attraction is the trading post (no dealers), where used sneak and layout boats, duck decoys, plus miscellaneous duck hunting equipment is sold or traded.

Entry register before 10 a.m., for sneak shooting over 60 decoys. Shooting over decoys from layout boat are shown in competition.

Jim Craig, a 6-3, 240-pound All-State, All-Area tackle, is at Colorado State while Chris Lang, a defensive back, is playing for Augustana College in South Dakota. At Bowling Green of Ohio, Dave Frecka is aiming for a starting berth. The Graham twins — Mike and Rick — have gone their separate ways: Rick will play for Hillsdale while Mike is attending Central Michigan University. Also at CMU is Rob Hollandsworth, a 6-foot-3, 225-pound right guard.

Franklin is represented at EMU by Charlie Clarke and Hillsdale also got Bruce Vogt while Ron Weston and Dennis Schick are at Ferris State.

Sewer plan okayed

A master plan for the development of the water and sanitary sewer program in Sumpter Township has been approved by the township board.

The board's action in approving the master plan followed a briefing on the plan's details by Wade, Trim & Associates of Taylor, consulting engineers for the township.

The board also authorized the filing of appropriate applications for grants to federal and state agencies.

Township Trustee Kenneth Moore initiated the motion calling for the board's approval of the master plan, dated Nov. 1, 1972. Treasurer Elbert Ray supported the motion and the board agreed unanimously.

Indian program scheduled

The Romulus Public Library will hold a program of Indian dances at 11 a.m. on Saturday.

The Huron Chippewa Order of the Arrow dancers (members of Boy Scout troops) will perform various dances.

Children and adults are welcome to attend this free special event.

Institute offers tips for those enjoying sport of biking

"It's the thing to do"...and adults are rediscovering a sport that never lost its popularity with youngsters — bicycling.

But bicycling can also create safety problems, says the Institute for Safer Living.

Approximately 880 bicyclists are likely to be killed this year in bicycle-automobile accidents, according to the National Safety Council.

Such fatalities have risen steadily in recent years, from 490 in 1961 to 850 last year. An estimated 130 additional bicycle-related deaths are predicted.

The institute estimates 1,040,000 bicycle-related injuries occur annually.

More than 75 million people ride bicycles now, compared with 55 million in the late 1960s.

The institute urges adherence to these common sense safety precautions to help eliminate many bicycle accidents.

—Learn to ride well — practice in a safe area away from traffic. — Choose the correct bicycle size. — Bicycles are intended for use on lightly-traveled roads.

—Bicycles are prohibited on many highways and expressways. — Obey all traffic rules and regulations: at lights, stop signs, intersections, and one-way streets. Bicyclists must ride single file on roadways. Only one person on a bicycle (except tandems) — no riders.

—Bicyclists must not "hook" rides on other moving vehicles. — Every bicycle must have a bell or horn and a brake or brakes in good condition. For after dark use, bicycles must have a reflector or red tail light that is visible from 300 feet and a front headlamp that is visible from 500 feet.

—Always hand signal before turning. Ride as closely to the right hand edge of the road as possible and always ride with the flow of traffic. — Don't carry anything that would prevent at least one hand from being on the handlebars at all times.

—Leave stunt riding and racing for open areas free of traffic. In most communities, bicycles must be registered and display license plates. Keep a copy of the bicycle serial number at home.

Directory delivery completed

The Romulus Jaycees have closed out the delivery of their city directories for the 1972 year.

The directories will, however, continue to be available for new persons or those who need additional copies during the year. The directories may be received by calling Mike Pawelak at 941-0049 or contacting Romulus City Hall.

The Jaycees hope any person inadvertently missed in the distribution of the directories will contact them.

The Jaycees again wish to express their thanks to local businesses whose advertisements made this year's directory possible.

Traffic signal installed

A traffic control signal has been installed at the intersection of Middlebelt and Beverly roads in Romulus.

The Wayne County Road Commission completed the light's installation on Thursday. Romulus Police Chief Jacob J. Koch reported to the Romulus City Council.

A campaign to get the traffic signal at the intersection was initiated several months ago by Romulus city officials and the police department.

Hooten attends party

Theodore E. Hooten, owner and operator of Hoot's Chickenanny, Belleville's Kentucky Fried Chicken establishment, 146 High St., Belleville, attended Col. Harlan Sanders' 82nd birthday party held at the famed Marriott Inn, just outside of Louisville, Ky.

The birthday party for the founder of the Col. Sanders Kentucky Fried Chicken franchises was held on Saturday, Sept. 9.

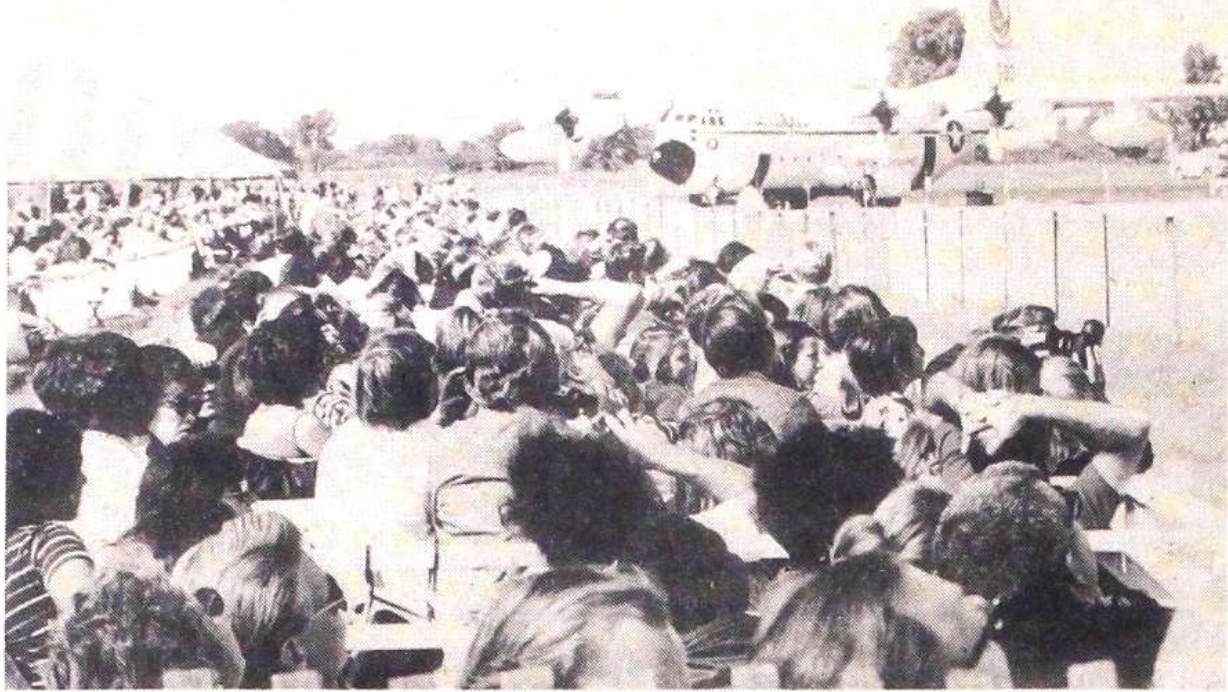

The colonel's original restaurant in Corbin, Ky. is considered a potential historic site, and a marker honoring the colonel was dedicated at the restaurant as one of the highlights celebrating his birthday.

On hand were many state officials, company representatives and franchisees from throughout the country.

Earlier this year, the founder of KFC was named Kentucky's ambassador of good will by the Kentucky state general assembly and Gov. Wendell Ford.

Water proposal accepted

A recommendation that Van Buren Township participate with adjoining townships in the use of water in cases of emergency was approved by the Van Buren Township Water and Sewer Commission.

The township's participation, if approved by the township board, would consist of installing two-way gate valves across township lines to be used in case of emergency.

The commission's action was taken at its August meeting and reported to the township board this week.

Homeowners hold auction

The United Homeowners Association of Sumpter Township will sponsor a Country Auction at 1 p.m. Sept. 23.

Numerous farms open for hunting

More than 2,000 farms in Michigan with 100,000 acres are open for 1972 public hunting.

Arthur Rowley, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Committee, announced that, again, farm lands throughout Michigan will provide areas without charge for public hunting. Rowley further stated that the majority of these farms is in the lower one-third of the state in the best pheasant and rabbit areas.

Any hunters wishing a list of these farms may contact their local county ASCS office or the Michigan State ASCS Office and obtain a list which shows the location by town, range and section.

The only requirements for the hunting privilege is that each person will be provided a self-addressed post card questionnaire by the land owner so that the U.S. Department of Agriculture may have an appraisal of the recreational value.

All hunters should contact the land owner and respect any rules and regulations he might have pertaining to his particular farm.

Bank officer to teach

Ronald M. Bosrock, vice-president and trust officer, Security Bank and Trust, was appointed to the faculty of the National Trust School, Northwestern University.

Bosrock will teach a course in long-range planning. The Graduate Trust School is a three-year program for Trust Department Heads and Trust Officers sponsored by the American Bankers Association.

Bosrock, who holds a law degree from the Detroit College of Law, will also give a speech on long-range planning at the Michigan Bankers' Association Statewide Trust Conference at Boyne Highlands this month.

Bosrock joined Security in 1968 and was promoted to vice-president and head of the trust department in 1970. He is a graduate of the National Trust School and is presently enrolled at the Graduate School of Banking, Rutgers University.

Bosrock is a member of the Financial and Estate Planning Council of Detroit, the Financial Analysts Society of Detroit, the Economic Club of Detroit, and serves on the Board of Directors of the Western Y.M.C.A.

He and his wife Mary and their two sons reside in Grosse Ile.

New maintenance plan used at Belvil Hospital

In January of this year the Belvil Community Hospital, 105 Main St., Belleville, inaugurated a new program for the cleaning and maintenance of its 70-bed medical facility.

A nationally-proven approach to the management of housekeeping, linen distribution and maintenance was started with Service Hospital Master Corp. of Illinois.

The firm brought to the hospital a program of skills and support embodying years of experience, techniques and educational procedures. William E. Hinchey, hospital administrator, reported.

The Service Master Hospital Corp., headquartered in Downers, Ill., is recognized for its extensive research and employee motivation and has an outstanding record of national achievement, Hinchey reported. The firm serves more than 250 hospitals throughout the country.

The hospital employees working in the housekeeping, linen and plant operation and maintenance departments have remained employees of the hospital. They are managed by a Service Master representative, who serves the hospital full-time as a department head and is backed up by a service team providing a combination of trained personnel, professional equipment and supplies and a broad continuing education program.

The Service Master representative serving Belvil Community Hospital as resident manager is Ray Davis, a native of Ohio. Davis lives in Belleville with his wife and family.

The Davises are the parents of four children — two sons who are career men in the U.S. Navy, a married daughter living in Ohio, and a daughter at home who attends Belleville Senior High School.

As departmental manager, Davis receives regular support and guidelines from several levels of the Service Master organization. This includes technical assistance in the solution of specific problems, plus education and motivation programs which have been recognized by several of the nation's foremost schools of hospital administration.

These include in-service training, films, plus a continuing series of motivational components and retraining methods which continually update employee performance.

Davis, in addition to having completed his company's extensive management training and development program, has held additional management responsibilities in several other hospitals as well as in industry.

"It is a pleasure to have Mr. Davis at Belvil Community Hospital," Hinchey said.

"Service Master's record in other hospitals encourages productivity, new work skill, and develops departmental morale, which contributes to support of the hospital's patient care objectives," he added.

"This new management concept should provide the hospital with a new range of techniques with far-reaching benefits," he said.

Belleville brothers receive Eagle awards

Eagle Scout Awards, the highest in scouting, were presented Monday night to two Belleville brothers.

Receiving the coveted awards were Tom Branscomb, 18, and his brother, Tim, 16, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Branscomb of 42139 Fret Rd., Belleville.

The award presentation was made at an Eagle Court of Honor held in the Father Folta Building of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, 409 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

The brothers are members of Boy Scout Troop 793, which is sponsored by St. Anthony's Parish.

Tom is a member of the freshman class at Eastern Michigan University. He attended Belleville Senior High School, where he was a member of the football and weightlifting teams and participated in the high school's production of "Brigadoon."

He was den chief for the troop's Cub Scout for two years and a member of the Order of the Arrow. He has earned the Historic Trails patch and the Fifty-Miler award and attended the 13th World Scout Jamboree held in Japan in August, 1971.

Tom is learning to fly, having already passed his written examinations.

Tim, a junior at Belleville High School, is a member of the varsity football team, track team and also is learning how to fly.

He recently signed on as junior assistant scoutmaster for Troop 793. He has earned the Historic Trails patch, the Fifty-Miler award for canoeing the Rifle River, the Paul Bunyan Axman award for conservation work at Rifle River Canoe Base and also is a member of the Order of the Arrow.

Tim also attended the World

TOM BRANSCOMB

Scout Jamboree with his brother. While in Japan, he took a special trip to the Toyota car factory and Tokyo.

CITY OF ROMULUS ORDINANCE

CHAPTER IV Article 1.4 (72-44.4)

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE OFFICIAL ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF ROMULUS, BY ZONING A PORTION OF SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENTIAL (R-1A) AREA TO MULTIPLE FAMILY (RM).

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus deems it in the best interest of the City and its citizens to amend the Official Zoning Map of the City of Romulus and,

WHEREAS: This amendatory ordinance is enacted upon the condition subsequent that the parties requesting the rezoning shall have, within twenty-four (24) months from the date of enactment of this ordinance, submitted to the City, a site plan for the development of the land which has been approved by the City, and shall have, within said twenty-four (24) month period, obtained one or more building permits for construction in accordance with said approved site plan, and, if said condition subsequent shall not occur, the zoning of the subject land shall revert to its prior zoning, R-1A; and,

WHEREAS: Nothing herein shall preclude the City from taking such further action with respect hereto as it would otherwise be empowered to take.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1. Short Title. City of Romulus Amended Zoning Ordinance.

Section 2. The Official Zoning Map of the City of Romulus is hereby amended to rezone from R-1A (Single Family, Residential) to RM (Multiple Family) the southeast ¼ of the southwest ¼ of Section 4 except the south fifty-five (55) feet of the east 411.87 feet thereof; also except the west 5.00 acres thereof.

Section 3. Effective Date. This ordinance shall take immediate effect upon publication in the official newspaper.

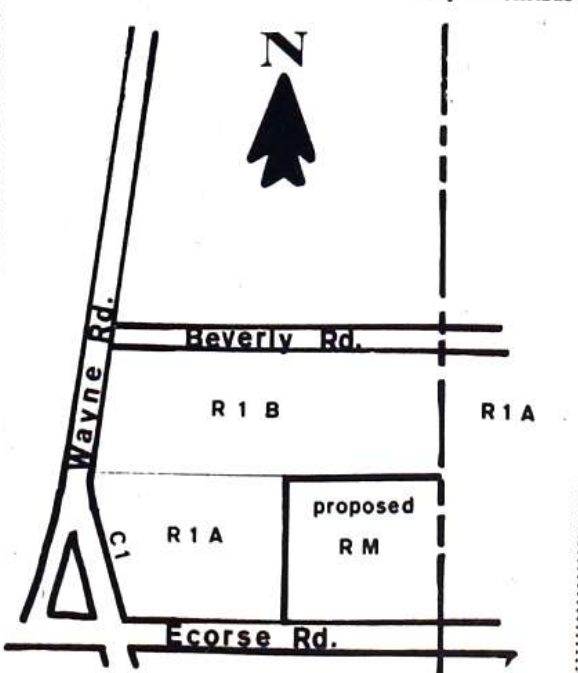

1. Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance adopted by the Romulus City Council at their regular meeting held September 5, 1972.

Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk

Within forty five (45) days after the publication of any ordinance duly passed by the Council, a petition may be presented to the Council protesting against such ordinance continuing in effect. Said petition shall contain the text of such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six (6) percent of the registered electors registered at the last preceding election at which a Mayor of the City was elected. Said ordinance shall thereupon and thereby be suspended from operation and the Council shall immediately reconsider such ordinance.

ATTEST:

Hyle J. Carmichael, Mayor
City of Romulus

Van Buren sets rezoning hearings

The Van Buren Planning Commission has scheduled three public hearings on the rezoning of land parcels located in Van Buren Township.

The hearings will be conducted at 8 p.m., in the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

The first public hearing will be on Oct. 18 and involves a 4.2-acre land parcel on Huron River Drive, between Edgemont and Martinsville roads. A rezoning of C-1 (local business) from R-1B (single family) is sought.

The second public hearing will be held on Oct. 25 involving a small land site on Ecorse Road between Morton-Taylor and Haggerty roads. A similar rezoning for this parcel is sought.

The third public hearing will be held on Nov. 8, involving less than an acre of land located on Haggerty Road between Alden and East Huron River drives.

A rezoning to C-1 (local business) from the land parcel's present zoning of R-1C (residential) is sought.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the Van Buren Township Planning Commission will hold a Public Hearing on the following described property zoned R-1B (single family) to C-1 (local business) to amend the zoning ordinance No. 9-20-65 by amending the zoning map as follows:

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

A parcel of land described as: Beginning at a point S. 83 deg. W. 534.72 ft. from the intersection of the centerline of Huron River Drive and the line between the E. & W. ½ of the S. E. fractional ¼ of Sec. 22, Van Buren Twp., Town 3 South, Range 8 East, and proceeding thence N. 83 deg. E. 133.68 ft. to a point; thence N. 139.3 ft. to a point on the 655 contour line; thence Westerly along said contour line to a point N. 139.6 ft. from the point of beginning; thence S. 139.6 ft. to the point of beginning, containing in all 4.25 acres of land, more or less; excepting therefrom a parcel of land described as follows: Beginning at a point in the centerline of Huron River Drive distant 475.04 ft. measured S. 83 deg. West from the intersection of the E. & W. ½ of the S. E. fractional ¼ of Sec. 22 and the centerline of Huron River Drive; thence due N. a distance of 152 ft. to a point; thence S. 87 deg. 48' 15" W. a distance of 59.26 ft. to a point; thence due S. 157 ft. to a point in the centerline of Huron River Drive; thence N. 83 deg. East along the centerline of Huron River Drive a distance of 59.68 ft. to the point of beginning.

A Public Hearing will be held in the Council Room, 46425 Tyler Road, Van Buren Township, County of Wayne, Belleville, Michigan on Wednesday the 18th day of October, 1972 at 8:00 p.m.

Wayne-Westland schools awarded grant for program

The Wayne-Westland School District has received a $3,000 grant to assist in a pilot educational project during the coming year. The award was made by the Michigan Council for the Arts to the Michigan Architectural Foundation.

It is one of 20 from council totaling more than $90,000 which will provide matching funds to introduce an awareness program to elementary school children on the characteristics and implications of environmental arts.

The Wayne-Westland schools have been designated for the initial effort for an eventual state-wide program.

For a long time there has been interest on the part of professional architects to present information on architecture, planning, landscape architecture and engineering to school children. The lack of an organized educational program has always hampered such efforts.

The council grant, through the Michigan Architectural Foundation, in association with the Michigan Society of Architects will assist in the development of such a program of environmental education, by taking a step-by-step approach to test out various program procedures.

Funds to support this project are part of an on-going community arts program sponsored by the Michigan Council for the Arts. The council derives its financial support from the state legislature, the National Endowment for the Arts, and private contributions through the Michigan Foundation for the Arts.

BUSINESS IS GREAT BUT WE HAVE TIME FOR YOU

WAYNE'S NORTH SIDE

ASH ST. offers a big two-story home on a tree lined street four bedrooms in this family home with formal dining room. There is a full basement with new furnace and a two car garage and a screened in back porch to relax on and ponder the low taxes you have on this fine older home. Call 721-4241.

COUNTRY ATMOSPHERE

Canton Township has the quiet peaceful atmosphere that you could be looking for. Check out Oakview Lane and see the three bedroom all aluminum sided home with two car garage. There is a paneled breezeway and some nice fruit trees are growing on the big 90' lot. Low taxes will keep the payments reasonable and occupancy is immediate. Don't wait on this one at only $18,900. Call 721-4241 for fast service.

WAYNE'S FINEST

Whitney Knoll offers two outstanding custom homes on huge ravine lots with terraced landscaping. These homes cannot be described in an ad except to say they are both split levels and should be seen first hand to be considered. Priced in the Mid 40's and the Mid 60's and couldn't be duplicated for close to the asking price. Call 721-4241 Now.

FAMILY ROOM WITH FIREPLACE

BRUCE ST in Romulus offers an outstanding brick ranch home with two car attached garage. There is a natural fireplace in the family room and the kitchen is family sized. There are other features to this honey which includes a full basement that should be seen. Don't overlook this one cause the price is only $24,000 on Conventional or assumption terms. Call 721-4241

BRAND NEW LISTING

A four bedroom Bi-level on Westchester St. in Westland with a two car garage and priced at only $24,900. I thought it was worth more but this is all the seller wanted cause he is anxious to move. Other features include a family room with a large terrace, a very nice landscaped and fenced yard. Come see the inside cause the interior is Excellent. Call 721-4241

WILSHIRE COLONIAL

Truly a great buy! This colonial features four nice sized bedrooms with full bath up and 1/2 bath on the main floor. This is of course a full basement and the family room with natural fireplace is out of this world. There is a 300 ft. deep landscaped lot and so many more other good things I've run out of room. So bring your checkbook and be prepared to buy. If you must look at the neighborhood first a curbside check is invited on Wilshire Blvd. in Westland. Call 721-4241

LAKE POINT VILLAGE

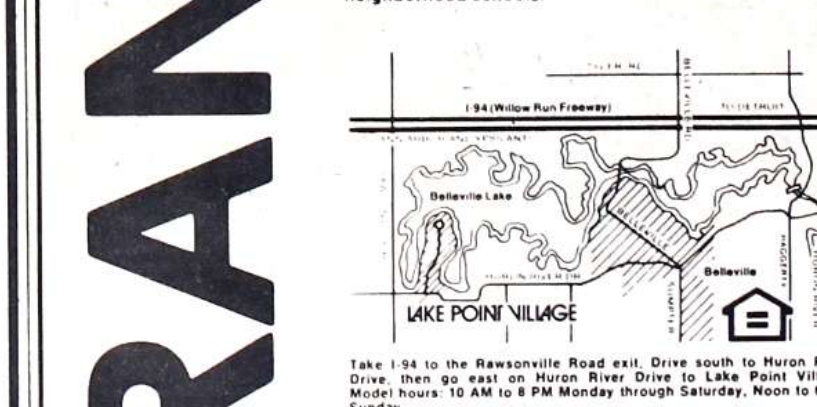

Where Every Day Is A Holiday.

Live at Lake Point Village and you'll discover a world of leisure activities. Boating, swimming and water skiing in the summer. Fishing and biking in the spring and fall. Skating and tobogganing in the winter. In fact, almost any sport you can name is just a few steps from your door. Because Lake Point Village is situated on a beautiful peninsula that juts out into Belleville Lake. You have all the advantages of a lakefront home, plus outstanding community facilities including a luxurious clubhouse and swimming pool, a private putting green and complete recreation areas. And just a few blocks away, you'll find an 18 hole golf course and riding stables.

And you'll have the time to enjoy your favorite sport, time to entertain your friends and neighbors and time for quiet relaxation. Because Lake Point Village is a condominium and provides maintenance free living. No more grass to cut, leaves to rake or snow to shovel. All exterior maintenance is handled by the Village's professional staff.

You'll be delighted with the luxury and comfort of your townhome. You may choose either the two or the three bedroom model—both provide wall to wall carpeting, individually controlled gas heat and central air conditioning, full basements, generous closet space and ceramic tiled baths. There's a huge family kitchen completely equipped with a 14 cubic foot, frost free, double door refrigerator, continuous cleaning oven, dishwasher and garbage disposal as well as wood cabinets and plenty of formica counter space. Each townhome is built with such care and skill that it carries a 3 year written warranty. And Lake Point Village is convenient to churches, shopping and—most important to you—excellent Van Buren neighborhood schools.

Take I-94 to the Rawsonville Road exit. Drive south to Huron River Drive, then go east on Huron River Drive to Lake Point Village. Model hours: 10 AM to 8 PM Monday through Saturday, Noon to 6 PM Sunday.
